Arabia Won't Renew Air Base Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — By sudden decision of King Saud, the United States must give up its air base rights a year from now at strategic Dhahran Airfield on the Persian Gulf Coast of Saudi Arabia.

The State Department, disclosing the setback last night, emphasized that the United States intends to continue "close and friendly cooperation" with Saudi Arabia in spite of this incident.

But officials conceded that the result of the king's decision will be to deny the U.S. government the use of air facilities which could be of great military importance in event of a major international crisis.

The field development goes back 15 years and has cost the United States many millions of dollars. But it has long been treated by both governments as a Saudi Arabian field used by the United States under terms of a formal agreement and subject to the jurisdiction of the Saudi government.

The agreement now in force is due to expire in April 1962. The United States has been notified, the State Department said, that the agreement will not be renewed. Officials said that means the rights of the U.S. government to operate from the field will end in April next year.

Dhahran has been a major base for operations of the military air transport flights through the Middle East, some of them around the world flights. It also has been the operating base of an Air Force air-sea rescue team. Officials said that no combat planes have been operated out of Dhahran. But it is understood that under the agreement the base presumably could have been used in time of war for combat aircraft.

AIR BASE LOCATION

U.S. officials here said that King Saud, long known as a friend of the United States, apparently had decided to serve notice of "non-renewal" of the Dhahran agreement because of internal political forces in his country. They declared they had no information on which to be more specific. They noted, however, that Saudi Arabia has been assailed for years by other Arab countries, and particularly the United Arab Republic, with a charge that it permitted a foreign air base on its territory.

The king suddenly announced his decision yesterday over Mecca Radio. This evidently caught Washington by surprise. The State Department then decided to make public the expiration of the agreement on the American side. Since the king has determined not to renew the pact, the United States has no choice but to comply.

The Dhahran field was built at the end of World War II by the United States. The right to build it had been granted by the late King Ibn Saud, in connection with U.S. plans to transport troops from Europe to the Far East after the defeat of Nazi Germany. With the quick end of the war in the Pacific, it was not needed.

Because of the strategic location of Dhahran in the Middle East, however, the United States decided to go ahead with the construction of the airport and recently has concentrated on developing it as a major center for international civil air routes.

RATS COLOR BLIND?

Top Science Prize Goes To Girl, 11

Winning the major award in judging last night at College of Marin was the exhibit, "Are Rats Color Blind?" by Claudia Masouredis, daughter of a physician and a pupil at Santa Venetia School.

Claudia is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Serafeim P. Masouredis of 9 De Anza Way, Santa Venetia. Her father is on the staff of the University of California Medical Center. Her science teacher is Harold D. Tracy.

One hundred and seven entries from seventh through 12th grades are included in the judging. None of the entries from higher grade classifications was considered worthy of a grand prize, despite general high quality of the exhibits, explained Dr. Richard Heinze, assistant county superintendent and show chairman.

The science fair, being staged under auspices of the Marin County Schools Department this year, will be open to the public until 9 o'clock tonight and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow in the college gymnasium in Kentfield.

Twenty-four judges placed the awards last night. They included college professors, science teachers, doctors, industrial scientists and engineers. None of the teachers was from a Marin school.

Gate Span Can Carry Trains, Report Shows

"Rapid transit facilities may be safely added" to the Golden Gate Bridge, indeed the present condition of the bridge "can be improved" insofar as heavy wind action is concerned by at the same time modifying the present sidewalks.

That is the final report of a bridge expert hired by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District to study feasibility of putting transit on the span.

C. H. Gronquist, consulting engineer of New York, submitted his final report to the transit district yesterday. In addition, 25 copies of the report were sent directly to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The final report confirms a semi-final report made by the late D. B. Steinman last May subject to confirmation by wind tunnel tests. Dr. Steinman died in August and Gronquist, a member of Steinman's firm, was retained by the district to complete the studies.

The wind tunnel tests were conducted on a model section of the bridge by F. P. Farquharson of the University of Washington and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads at federal aerodynamics facilities at Langley, Va.

The final reports finds "addition of rapid transit facilities feasible and practical." Trains could be carried on a lower deck, inside the present structure and practically out of sight.

Grand Jurors Will Probe Civic Center

Full-Scale Inquiry Called On Work Stop Order

Marin County Grand Jurors last night called for a full-scale investigation of the January stop-work order on the county civic center building.

Harry Heifetz, who was acting foreman in the absence of William L. Hughes, said that a special grand jury meeting to get full facts on the work stoppage will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the courthouse.

The grand jurors will supoena representatives of the contracting firm and the architectural firm which are working on the civic center.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire and County Auditor Leon A. deLisle have also been invited to appear before the grand jury. The county supervisors, who ordered a temporary work stoppage in a 3-2 vote in January, will not be called for this meeting, Heifitz said.

The contractor, who was forced to halt work on the civic center for a week in January, has filed a damage claim for $14,047.

"It's not so much the money damages that we're interested in," said acting foreman Heifetz. "We're interested in determining whether or not the people of this county were damaged in any way, either by a wrongful act or an imprudent act."

Heifetz said that a commit-

Big Eichler Home Development Set

Buying 190 Acres For $20 Million Project

Eichler Homes, Inc., will buy 190 acres of the Nunes Ranch on Lucas Valley Road for a 20-million-dollar development of homes.

Announcement of the agreement to purchase the property from Thomas and Isabel Nunes—at an undisclosed price— was made today by Joseph L. Eichler, president of the firm.

The company plans to build about 750 homes in the $27,000-$30,000 price range. Development work will start immediately, and the first homes are scheduled for opening late this year, it was announced.

The development will be the third major one in Marin Eichler which has built houses in Terra Linda and Lucas Valley.

The Nunes Ranch, of 400 acres, was annexed by the City of San Rafael as uninhabited land last year. It is reached by Lucas Valley Road and Eichler plans to extend Del Ganado and Monticello Roads from Terra Linda into the development.

INCOMES SANK $700 MILLION DURING MONTH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The personal income of Americans sank 700 million dollars to an annual rate of 405.90 billion dollars annually in February, the Commerce Department reported today.

The sag, reflecting a drop of nearly a billion in payments of wages and salaries from the January rate, gave no comfort to the government economists looking for the end of the recession.

It ran counter to earlier economic reports on February which showed a rise in retail sales, home building and steel production, and a leveling-off of over-all industrial output.

The Federal Reserve Board reporting yesterday on the industrial output situation, said the figures amounted to the first sign that the recession has reached bottom or is close to it. (See story on page 2).

The U. S. income total was 10 billion dollars or 2½ per cent, above that for February, 1960, the Commerce Department said, but four billion less than the peak of nearly 410 billion a year reached last October.

COMMONWEALTH PLAN

Plea For World Disarming Made

LONDON (AP)—British Commonwealth leaders today called for a world disarmament program stripping national forces to the level of internal police. Nuclear arms would be junked and disarmament enforced by a huge army under the United Nations.

A communique, in which breakaway South Africa joined, called for immediate negotiations to end the arms race. And it left the door open for Red China to take part.

Winding up their 10-day session, the prime ministers and presidents of the British family of nations said that to achieve general and complete disarmament the major powers should "resume negotiations without delay in close contact with the United Nations."

The phrase "in close contact with the United Nations," was intended to allow for participation of the Peiping regime, which is not a member of the Growth Study Puts College Enrollment At 2,000 In '68

The first step toward realization of a master plan for the College of Marin was realized last night when the architectural firm of Falk and Booth presented the board with a "space adequacy survey."

The architects, represented last night by their educational consultant, Wesley Hall, began their study last November when the trustees approved a tentative budget of about two million dollars for expansion of the college over a period of years.

The present enrollment of 850 students should grow to 1,641 fulltime students by 1964 and exceed 2,000 by 1968, Hall said.

The study of the college facilities and future needs was based on enrollment studies prepared for the college by the Marin County superintendent of schools office.

On the basis of their survey, conducted with the cooperation of college officials, the architects see a need for 64 "teaching stations" (classrooms, lecture rooms or laboratories) for an enrollment of 2,000 students. At present, the college has 50 teaching stations.

Additional instructional facilities needed for an enrollment of 1,500, Hall said, include: laboratories for journalism, reading and foreign language instruction; choral-instrument facilities; business, engineering, law, mathematics and sales classrooms; an astronomy laboratory and planetarium, and a dental laboratory.

For 2,000 students, the college will need, in addition, five regular classrooms, a special typing rooms and additional rooms for business, engineering, law and mathematics instruction, Hall said.

Also submitted to the board were "needs which have no re-

Senate Approves Jobless Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's emergency unemployment benefits bill has cleared the Senate after a narrow victory in his first showdown with Senate conservatives.

The measure was passed 84-4 last night, but Kennedy won by only a two-vote margin on earlier fight to strip a state-by-state financing provision from the bill.

This success assures enactment of a measure close to the president's wishes. Elimination of the state-by-state provision restored the bill to the form in which it passed the house.

It now goes to conference with the House over some relatively minor Senate amendments. Democratic leaders hope to get it to the White House by the middle of next week.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg expressed gratification at the wiping out of the financing provision sponsored by Byrd.

He said the 44-42 vote to knock out this amendment cleared the way for speedy adoption of the bill, and added that his department already has done preliminary work to speed the jobless aid payments.

The benefits are to be payable two weeks after Kennedy signs the bill. They would go to perhaps as many as three million workers who exhaust their regular unemployment compensation rights in the two years starting last June 30.

The extra payments are to run for half of the regular entitlement period in each state, up to a maximum of 13 weeks. They are estimated to total around 927 million dollars.

They would be paid for by a special temporary four-tenths of 1 per cent added to the present basic 3.1 per cent levy for the regular program. This tax is paid by employers.

Under the House bill as approved by the administration, the approximately one billion dollars collected from this two-year tax would be pooled to pay for the benefits in all states.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, succeeding in getting that group to amend it to separate the funds so that each state's employers would pay for the benefits only in that state.

On the decisive test, 39 Democrats and five Republicans backed Kennedy to beat the Byrd amendment while 26 Republicans and 16 Democrats, 13 of them Southerners, voted for it.

Irishmen's Day Brings Out Green

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The O'Briens, the O'Maras, the Kellys and the Kennedys and millions of Irishmen-for-a-day, marched, danced or simply raised their glasses in toasts today in St. Patrick's Day celebrations across the nation.

America's leading Irishman, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, started his day with an appointment in Washington with Irish Ambassador Thomas J. Kiernan, who came bearing shamrocks and the Kennedy coat of arms for the chief executive.

The president then turned back to business.

In New York City, about 120,000 persons stepped out in the main parade up Fifth Avenue and followed the freshly painted green stripe past the reviewing stand. Green hardboiled eggs were being handed out at Times Square, drinks in green glasses were being served at La Guardia Airport's hotel, and the Long Island Railroad rechristened itself the Long Ireland.

Among the dignitaries in the New York reviewing stand was West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, welcomed even though he indicated he didn't even have relatives in Ireland. ("Well", he explained, "there are very few Irish votes in Germany.") Conspicuously absent from the marchers was Irish playwright Brendan Behan, declared unwelcome because the parade chairman felt his reputation for hard drinking would be out of place. Behan accepted an invitation to celebrate in Jersey City, N.J., instead.

In Savannah, Ga., the city council proclaimed every citizen an "honorary Irishman" and announced plans to send out 20 boats to dye the muddy Savannah River green.

Boston celebrated two holidays at once—St. Patrick's Day and Evacuation Day, commemorating March 17, 1776, when the British were driven from Dorchester Heights, a part of Boston.

In Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., quickie car washers were washing green cars for a quarter. Any other color cost the regular $1.50.

St. Patrick's Day parties and dances blossomed all over Los Angeles. The ancient order of Hibernians will stage its 83rd annual dinner dance tonight in the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

In Washington, the Army chose St. Patrick's eve to announce a contract award for continued research and development of the Shillelagh, a lightweight missile designed for support of ground troops.

Probers Say Reds Exploited Pauling's Test-Ban Petition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today a nuclear test ban petition filed by Dr. Linus Pauling was exploited by Communists as part of "the Kremlin's fraudulent 'peace' offensive."

A unanimous report of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee also said "in his statements and attitudes, Dr. Pauling has displayed a consistent pro-Soviet bias." It pictured the Nobel Prize-winning chemist as associating with Communists and Communist-front organizations.

Pauling cited previous denials that he is or was ever a Communist.

The petition calling for an immediate ban on nuclear testing was filed by Pauling with the United Nations on Jan. 15, 1958. He listed 11,021 scientists in 49 countries as signers.

When Pauling, a California Institute of Technology professor, was called before the subcommittee last year, he refused its request for the names of the persons who helped him obtain the signatures.

In a fight he carried unsuccessfully to the Supreme Court, he based his refusal on what he termed a matter of conscience morality and justice. He accused the subcommittee of wanting the names only to hound the individuals who assisted him.

The subcommittee did not cite him for contempt, although it said in its report that his conduct toward it had been discourteous and defiant from the beginning.

Youth Custody

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Youth Authority closed the year 1960 with 15,707 juveniles in its care. Of that number, 4,853 were in CYA and State Department of Corrections institutions, and nearly 11,000 were on parole.

New Population Signs Readied

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—New highway signs updating population of cities to fit the 1960 census are being readied and installed as rapidly as possible, the State Division of Highways reports.

"Many communities throughout the state have already received their new signs," said J. C. Womack, state highway engineer. "But it will be several months before we receive the balance from the manufacturers. At that time, we'll get them up as soon as possible."

"It is my conclusion that current circumstances and, in particular, the relentless publicity involved has severely limited my efficiency in my recent position or any other management position with the General Electric Co.," Ginn said in a letter to the company.

Green Hair Out

WINDFALL, Ind. (AP)—Jimmy Rainey, 7, persuaded his mother to tint his hair green for St. Patrick's Day, but his principal won't let him come to school.

Principal Harold Wright is afraid Jimmy's presence may lead to a whole school full of green-haired pupils.

Reserve Board Finds Sign Of Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — February has brought the first signs that the recession has reached bottom or is close to it, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

The board said yesterday the main signpost was that February saw a halt in the unbroken six-month drop in over-all industrial production.

Republicans greeted the board's monthly "National Summary of Business Conditions" with smiles and noted that it came before any of President John F. Kennedy's anti-recession measures had been enacted.

"The main thing we have to fear today about the recession is some of the proposals to cure it," said House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. "Excessive government spending could severely impair the natural economic forces that are at work today."

The Federal Reserve report said the output of mines, mills and factories stood at 102 per cent of the 1957 average in February. This was the same as the January figure, which indicated a halt in the decline. But it still is far below the 111 per cent record high of January, 1960.

Senate Approves Jobless Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's emergency unemployment benefits bill has cleared the Senate after a narrow victory in his first showdown with Senate conservatives.

The measure was passed 84-4 last night, but Kennedy won by only a two-vote margin on earlier fight to strip a state-by-state financing provision from the bill.

This success assures enactment of a measure close to the president's wishes. Elimination of the state-by-state provision restored the bill to the form in which it passed the house.

It now goes to conference with the House over some relatively minor Senate amendments. Democratic leaders hope to get it to the White House by the middle of next week.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg expressed gratification at the wiping out of the financing provision sponsored by Byrd.

He said the 44-42 vote to knock out this amendment cleared the way for speedy adoption of the bill, and added that his department already has done preliminary work to speed the jobless aid payments.

The benefits are to be payable two weeks after Kennedy signs the bill. They would go to perhaps as many as three million workers who exhaust their regular unemployment compensation rights in the two years starting last June 30.

The extra payments are to run for half of the regular entitlement period in each state, up to a maximum of 13 weeks. They are estimated to total around 927 million dollars.

They would be paid for by a special temporary four-tenths of 1 per cent added to the present basic 3.1 per cent levy for the regular program. This tax is paid by employers.

Under the House bill as approved by the administration, the approximately one billion dollars collected from this two-year tax would be pooled to pay for the benefits in all states.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, succeeding in getting that group to amend it to separate the funds so that each state's employers would pay for the benefits only in that state.

On the decisive test, 39 Democrats and five Republicans backed Kennedy to beat the Byrd amendment while 26 Republicans and 16 Democrats, 13 of them Southerners, voted for it.

U.S. Reported Giving More Arms To Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The United States has stepped up its military aid to the pro-Western Laotian government's army to meet the new threat of the Soviet-supplied Pathet Lao rebels, a reliable source reported today.

The source, whose identity can not be disclosed, said the United States is sending more rifles and ammunition than previously, as well as more shoes, uniforms, rice and petroleum products.

The exact amounts of the increase are not available. But the source said no new or unusual types of weapons are besupplied.

The staff of U. S. military men in civilian clothing training the royal Laotian army also has been doubled, from 100 men previously to about 200 now.

Earlier this week, sources in Washington indicated the U. S. government was considering pouring more aid into Laos.

30 Missionaries Freed In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Thirty missionaries held captive by Congolese soldiers at Kasonge in Kivu Province have been released and have reached safety, the United Nations command announced today.

A U.N. spokesman said the missionaries were freed on the intervention of the Kivu minister of justice. They made their own way to the U.N. base at Kindu and now are under the protection of U.N. Malayan soldiers, awaiting evacuation to Leopoldville.

The Malayans had sent out patrols to rescue the mission workers but they were freed before the U.N. soldiers arrived.

The United Nations announced yesterday that 23 of the missionaries were Americans but said later their nationality was not clear. U.N. officials in Kindu have been asked to clear up the confusion.

The missionaries were held by troops loyal to the leftist goverment of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville. They were reported held under house arrest and to have been without food.

The missionaries brought with them alarming stories that a fanatic sect of about 100 pagans whose aim is to "kill all whites" is on the rampage in the Kasongo area.

U. N. sources said an American mission group that arrived earlier in Kindu has indicated that it is ready to go back to its mission station at Kama, in Kivu Province. They include a girl who was rescued by U.N forces after four Congolese soldiers raped her.

A U.N. spokesman announced the lifting of a brief Congolese blockade of the airport at Coqhilhatville, in Equator Province, where soldiers loyal to the Leopoldville government and its army chief, Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, are in control.

Congolese Peril Part Of Angola

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—Violence was reported spreading today from the Congo into neighboring Angola. The news agency Lusitania said that armed bands of Congolese are terrorizing white and black settlers in the Portuguese territory.

The agency said most of the attacks have been carried out against isolated plantations or small communities. It said an undetermined number of persons have been killed and a number of houses burned. It added that troops and police reinforcements have the "situation well in hand."

Exile Rebels Agree To Talk Algeria Peace

A communique issued by rebel Information Minister Mohammed Yazid said the rebel government had taken the necessary steps to send a delegation to meet with a similar French group.

The communique was issued after the Algerian cabinet ended three days of discussions of the prospects opened by President Charles de Gaulle's offer to negotiate self-determination for Algeria without prior conditions.

Informed sources said secret contacts which have been going on between the rebels and the French for ending the 7-year-old Nationalist rebellion have ironed out agreements already on some points.

These reportedly include the necessity for continued French economic aid in Algeria, continued use of French currency and the need for a long transition period in Algeria during which the tempers of both sides could cool.

Today's communique said the French statement of March 15 is a positive response to the rebel desire to engage in negotiations "for a free consultation of the Algerian people," in other words on eventual self-determination.

QUAKE RUINS 80% OF CITY IN INDONESIA

JAKARTA (UPI)—A violent earthquake last night demolished 80 per cent of Endeh, a city of 60,000 in the east Indonesian island of Flores, according to cabled reports reaching here late today.

There were no reports on casualties.

The cabled report said three separate quakes struck the city, collapsing about 80 per cent of all buildings in the city.

Flores is about 1,060 miles east of Jakarta. The quake, which was recorded here, was centered about 1,050 miles east of here.

Nike Site On Angel Island To Be Abandoned In Summer

Angel Island's Nike missile site will be abondoned this summer, the Army announced today.

The State Division of Beaches and Parks has been negotiating with the federal government for full title to the island, part of which is now a state park.

Maj. Gen. Mervyn M. Magee, commander of the Sixth Region, U.S. Army Air Defense Command at Fort Baker, said a total of eight Nike Ajax sites, including Angel Island, are to be inactivated.

Five other Nike Ajax bases in Los Angeles and San Francisco areas are being converted to Nike Hercules sites, he said. These include the Fairfield Nike Sets, near Travis Air Force Base.

The addition of these five sites will enable the Army to give more effective protection from hostile air attack than ever before, the general said.

Nike Hercules, the first surface to air missile with an atomic capability, has a range of more than 75 miles, three times that of Ajax, and an altitude capability of more than 150,000 feet—three times that of Ajax.

YOUNGSTERS AT 3 AND 8 NOT JUVENILES

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Police clerk, Elizabeth Gardner answered the telephone yesterday and heard an upset mother on the other end.

"The police got my youngsters down there," the woman said. "I want 'em loose."

"Are they juveniles?" Miss Gardner asked.

"They ain't old enough for that," the woman replied. "They are only 3 and 8."

Paint Store Fetes 14th Anniversary

Marin Paint Store, the pioneer paint store in San Anselmo, will celebrate its 14th anniversary with a special sale tomorrow.

The store was started by A. T. England, who also owned a paint store in San Rafael, opened about 1937. The two stores at that time were known as Morwear Paint Stores.

In 1949 the stores were sold, and in 1956 Bertram Bowes became owner of the San Anselmo shop. The name was then changed to Marin Paint Store.

Bowes, who lives at 103 West Street, San Rafael, came to Marin in 1945 from his native Vancouver, B. C.

Exile Rebels Agree To Talk Algeria Peace

A communique issued by rebel Information Minister Mohammed Yazid said the rebel government had taken the necessary steps to send a delegation to meet with a similar French group.

The communique was issued after the Algerian cabinet ended three days of discussions of the prospects opened by President Charles de Gaulle's offer to negotiate self-determination for Algeria without prior conditions.

Informed sources said secret contacts which have been going on between the rebels and the French for ending the 7-year-old Nationalist rebellion have ironed out agreements already on some points.

These reportedly include the necessity for continued French economic aid in Algeria, continued use of French currency and the need for a long transition period in Algeria during which the tempers of both sides could cool.

Today's communique said the French statement of March 15 is a positive response to the rebel desire to engage in negotiations "for a free consultation of the Algerian people," in other words on eventual self-determination.

QUAKE RUINS 80% OF CITY IN INDONESIA

JAKARTA (UPI)—A violent earthquake last night demolished 80 per cent of Endeh, a city of 60,000 in the east Indonesian island of Flores, according to cabled reports reaching here late today.

There were no reports on casualties.

The cabled report said three separate quakes struck the city, collapsing about 80 per cent of all buildings in the city.

Flores is about 1,060 miles east of Jakarta. The quake, which was recorded here, was centered about 1,050 miles east of here.

Paint Store Fetes 14th Anniversary

Marin Paint Store, the pioneer paint store in San Anselmo, will celebrate its 14th anniversary with a special sale tomorrow.

The store was started by A. T. England, who also owned a paint store in San Rafael, opened about 1937. The two stores at that time were known as Morwear Paint Stores.

In 1949 the stores were sold, and in 1956 Bertram Bowes became owner of the San Anselmo shop. The name was then changed to Marin Paint Store.

Bowes, who lives at 103 West Street, San Rafael, came to Marin in 1945 from his native Vancouver, B. C.

Nike Site On Angel Island To Be Abandoned In Summer

Angel Island's Nike missile site will be abondoned this summer, the Army announced today.

The State Division of Beaches and Parks has been negotiating with the federal government for full title to the island, part of which is now a state park.

Maj. Gen. Mervyn M. Magee, commander of the Sixth Region, U.S. Army Air Defense Command at Fort Baker, said a total of eight Nike Ajax sites, including Angel Island, are to be inactivated.

Five other Nike Ajax bases in Los Angeles and San Francisco areas are being converted to Nike Hercules sites, he said. These include the Fairfield Nike Sets, near Travis Air Force Base.

The addition of these five sites will enable the Army to give more effective protection from hostile air attack than ever before, the general said.

Nike Hercules, the first surface to air missile with an atomic capability, has a range of more than 75 miles, three times that of Ajax, and an altitude capability of more than 150,000 feet—three times that of Ajax.

Book Waste May Lead To Other Probes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Charges of waste in the state's textbook program may lead to an investigation of all the state's buying and contract bidding.

Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) said yesterday he plans to end hearings by his special Ways and Means Subcommittee into textbook surpluses next week.

After that he said he will ask the legislature to continue the investigating group for two years for a critical look at all of the state's purchasing methods for signs of negligence and waste.

Unruh said there still is plenty of room left for inquiry into school buying since textbooks account for only 13 million dollars of the 57 million dollars spent annually for classroom supplies over the state.

The textbook investigation began after 185,000 unused but outdated texts were burned to make room in warehouses for newer books.

Proposal Would Mean Jail For Shady Mortgage Dealers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Jail terms for what one assemblyman called the "sharks and white collar criminals" in the second mortgage field has been proposed by the attorney general.

It would provide the first direct criminal penalties for "10 per centers" or others convicted of fleecing home owners and investors in the secondary financing market.

He said the amendment amounts to a new real estate securities law that sets up stricter licensing and bonding requirements and requires dealers to make detailed financial reports.

Violators could be punished with sentences up to $5,000 in fines and five years in jail.

Needy Children Aid Is Lashed As Dole

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A long-awaited legislative report urged the state today to quit operating aid to needy children as a dole.

It warned state and county welfare departments:

Improve administration of ANC or face a possible overhaul by the 1963 legislature.

Chairman James A Cobey (D-Merced) introduced 17 bills and 6 resolutions to carry out recommendations of the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Labor and Welfare.

The legislation calls for tightening up enforcement of the controversial ANC program, especially to get at the absent father.

But the committee put the primary emphasis on efforts to help the families of needy youngsters become self-supporting by social casework.

ANC is budgeted for 1961-62 at 159 million dollars, up 21 million from the present year. The number of recipients is expected to hit 325,000. Maximum payments range from $135 a month for one child to $321 for nine in a family.

"ANC has been successful only in assisting children and families where economic dependency is their sole problem," said Cobey. "This program has operated as a dole.

"In most counties it has not been able to consistently restore to self-support many recipients who have problems money alone can't help.

"Therefore, we are running the immediate danger of being responsible for rearing a whole new generation of children in an atmosphere of moral and economic irresponsibility."

The committee acknowledged there were abuses but rejected turning over the program to law enforcement agencies.

The committee, by resolution or legislation, called for:

A coordinated program by county welfare directors and district attorneys to encourage reconciliation of an absent father with his family.

New laws to make false applications for ANC a misdemeanor and to require supplementary written statements to be made for aid under penalty of perjury.

RADAR SPEED SNARES RULED OUT BY ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO (AP)—State use of radar to snare speeders? "No," says the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee.

The committee killed the radar proposal by an 8-6 vote yesterday after Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Piedmont) protested that use of the electronic device by the highway patrol would permit "mobile speed traps."

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Frank Belotti (R-Eureka), who also submitted a bill to permit highway patrolmen to cruise in completely unmarked cars.

He agreed to postpone a vote on the bill for two weeks while he amended it to conform with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's milder proposal to allow each CHP district for an 18-month trial period to use one civilian-type car, but with CHP emblems on its sides.

Capt. William Kramer of the Eureka Highway Patrol Office said speeders can easily spot marked patrol cars and slow down when they see them.

He also cited statistics showing that traffic accidents in Eureka have gone down since officers began using radar under state laws allowing local police to use it.

Assembly Gets Bill For Hospital Unions

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill for unionization of hospital employees, attacked as a step toward complete government control, arrived on the assembly floor today with committee approval.

The six Democratic members of the assembly industrial relations committee approved the measure last night over the protests of three Republican members.

The measure would set up methods of forming unions in hospitals, sanitariums and rest homes except city, county and state hospitals and institutions.

Msgr. Thomas O'Dwyer, who said he represented hospitals of many faiths, said that failure to reach a collective bargaining agreement under the bill would cause a state mediator to "take over. It could lead to complete government control."

He also said there was "no indication" that Catholic sisters and others who work in hospitals for "spiritual motives" would be excluded from a hospital union.

An Orange County nurse, testifying in favor of the bill by Assemblyman Charles H. Wilson (D-Los Angeles), told the committee that she was fired from her job and blacklisted from Orange County hospitals after she attempted to set up a bargaining unit representing 280 nurses in eight hospitals last June.

Thomas P. Langdon, administrator of Hahnaman Hospital in San Francisco and spokesman for the California Hospital Assn., was asked if he knew of a blacklist on nurses, and he replied, "I never heard of it before."

The nurse, Mrs. Ruth Harmon, said she was fired for union organizing after all eight hospitals refused to recognize the nurses' collective bargaining unit.

The name of the Kansas capital, Topeka, is an Omaha Indian word meaning a good place to dig potatoes.

Needy Children Aid Is Lashed As Dole

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A long-awaited legislative report urged the state today to quit operating aid to needy children as a dole.

It warned state and county welfare departments:

Improve administration of ANC or face a possible overhaul by the 1963 legislature.

Chairman James A Cobey (D-Merced) introduced 17 bills and 6 resolutions to carry out recommendations of the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Labor and Welfare.

The legislation calls for tightening up enforcement of the controversial ANC program, especially to get at the absent father.

But the committee put the primary emphasis on efforts to help the families of needy youngsters become self-supporting by social casework.

ANC is budgeted for 1961-62 at 159 million dollars, up 21 million from the present year. The number of recipients is expected to hit 325,000. Maximum payments range from $135 a month for one child to $321 for nine in a family.

"ANC has been successful only in assisting children and families where economic dependency is their sole problem," said Cobey. "This program has operated as a dole.

"In most counties it has not been able to consistently restore to self-support many recipients who have problems money alone can't help.

"Therefore, we are running the immediate danger of being responsible for rearing a whole new generation of children in an atmosphere of moral and economic irresponsibility."

The committee acknowledged there were abuses but rejected turning over the program to law enforcement agencies.

The committee, by resolution or legislation, called for:

A coordinated program by county welfare directors and district attorneys to encourage reconciliation of an absent father with his family.

New laws to make false applications for ANC a misdemeanor and to require supplementary written statements to be made for aid under penalty of perjury.

RADAR SPEED SNARES RULED OUT BY ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO (AP)—State use of radar to snare speeders? "No," says the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee.

Unmarked Highway Patrol cars? Maybe, if the cars aren't completely unmarked.

The committee killed the radar proposal by an 8-6 vote yesterday after Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Piedmont) protested that use of the electronic device by the highway patrol would permit "mobile speed traps."

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Frank Belotti (R-Eureka), who also submitted a bill to permit highway patrolmen to cruise in completely unmarked cars.

He agreed to postpone a vote on the bill for two weeks while he amended it to conform with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's milder proposal to allow each CHP district for an 18-month trial period to use one civilian-type car, but with CHP emblems on its sides.

Capt. William Kramer of the Eureka Highway Patrol Office said speeders can easily spot marked patrol cars and slow down when they see them.

He also cited statistics showing that traffic accidents in Eureka have gone down since officers began using radar under state laws allowing local police to use it.

Assembly Gets Bill For Hospital Unions

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill for unionization of hospital employees, attacked as a step toward complete government control, arrived on the assembly floor today with committee approval.

The six Democratic members of the assembly industrial relations committee approved the measure last night over the protests of three Republican members.

The measure would set up methods of forming unions in hospitals, sanitariums and rest homes except city, county and state hospitals and institutions.

Msgr. Thomas O'Dwyer, who said he represented hospitals of many faiths, said that failure to reach a collective bargaining agreement under the bill would cause a state mediator to "take over. It could lead to complete government control."

He also said there was "no indication" that Catholic sisters and others who work in hospitals for "spiritual motives" would be excluded from a hospital union.

An Orange County nurse, testifying in favor of the bill by Assemblyman Charles H. Wilson (D-Los Angeles), told the committee that she was fired from her job and blacklisted from Orange County hospitals after she attempted to set up a bargaining unit representing 280 nurses in eight hospitals last June.

Thomas P. Langdon, administrator of Hahnaman Hospital in San Francisco and spokesman for the California Hospital Assn., was asked if he knew of a blacklist on nurses, and he replied, "I never heard of it before."

The nurse, Mrs. Ruth Harmon, said she was fired for union organizing after all eight hospitals refused to recognize the nurses' collective bargaining unit.

The name of the Kansas capital, Topeka, is an Omaha Indian word meaning a good place to dig potatoes.

Headlines bond rally

Air Waves Personalities Helping Bonds

There'll be little need to tune in the radio tonight; favorite personalities of the air waves will be at a "kickoff rally" for the Tamalpais Union High School District's three-million-dollar bond election campaign.

The rally, beginning at 8 o'clock at the Corte Madera Recreation Center, will feature Don Sherwood, radio KSFO's "world's greatest disc jockey" and formerly a familiar figure on television.

Also on the program will be Aaron Edwards, Sherwood's radio foil; the Big Barman Band; Al Collins, radio beatnik, and the comedy team of Joe and Eddie.

There will be no charge for the show. A special section has been set aside for students.

Ross Hospital Profit-Sharing Plan In Effect

A profit-sharing retirement benefit plan has gone into effect for employees of Ross General Hospital, according to Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator.

Seventy-nine employees participants gathered Wednesday to hear details described by Dr. Siemens and to see a check for $7,600 handed to their representative, Mrs. Teresa Monahan. This money represented the employee share of 1960 profits of the institution and was put on bank deposit.

All who have worked continuously for a year or more participate in the plan which involves deposits of profits by the hospital every half-year, and payments of accumulated shares including interest on retirement.

The plan was approved late last year by the hospital directors.

Vietnamese fishermen are increasing their catch by 300 per cent using motorized boats. American aid has helped provide motors for some 2,000 fishing boats.

Reports Differ On Kent's Slap At Riot Film

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic State Chairman Roger Kent of California protested to the White House yesterday about the motion picture "Operation Abolition," made under auspices of House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The film charges that student demonstrations against the committee in San Francisco last year were communist inspired. Kent, of Kent Woodlands, told newsmen he considers the picture inaccurate and called it "bad stuff."

However, there was some confusion as to the extent of Kent's protest in a meeting at the White House with Frederick G. Dutton, a special assistant to President John F. Kennedy and a former aide of California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Kent told a reporter he had brought Dutton a transcript of the sound track of the film, and he understood Dutton would "have a look into the matter and take appropriate action."

However, Dutton said it was his understanding that Kent has made some inquiries at the Department of Defense about where they are showing the film, expressing his objections as a San Francisco attorney.

"He didn't ask us for any action," Dutton said. "He said he had talked to the Department of Defense."

Dutton said the major part of their 30-minute chat involved California politics and patronage.

Kent said he brought a number of newspaper clippings and editorials with him, plus a recording called "Sounds of Protest" which a San Francisco committee had made in opposition to the film.

Kent disputed the House committee's contention—which Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover has shared—that the San Francisco riots against the committee were Communist inspired.

"The Independent-Journal's century of service to Marin makes it one of our oldest industries and it seems appropriate for the Industrial Development Foundation to sponsor an observance of the occasion," said Enemark.

He said special honorees will be I-J owners Roy A. Brown and Justus F. Craemer.

Enemark will be master of ceremonies. Cocktail hour is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with dinner to follow at 8.

Reservations may be made through the Development Foundation office in San Rafael. Meadow Club capacity is 230, limiting participation to that number. Price of the no-host dinner will be $10 per couple, Enemark said.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

You'll Eat Pizza Or Corned Beef In An Irish Atmosphere Today

A shamrock to your health for St. Patrick's Day—a worthy occasion it is to dine out this very eve, and if ye meet but one Irishman in passing, be his name O'Shaughnessy, Kelly or McAlpin, 'twill make his heart lighter and also your own for having joined with him in celebration.

SURE NOW, I have it on good authority that the original Joe of restaurant fame was not an Italian at all, but an Irishman, else he most certainly would have named his establishment Giuseppi's and there's no room for such a label across the front of 931 Fourth Street, San Rafael, or some others.

Fortunate indeed it is that the entrance to this fine Irish-Italian restaurant is due to be blessed with additional space befittin' the good things within—as soon as the license of the Cricket Liquor Store next door has been transferred to the new Bottle Shop in Tiburon.

The extra room will be used to enlarge San Rafael Joe's both by way of its cocktail lounge and more dining space—but ye need not wait that long to pay a visit. It's a fair piece away yet—two months, at least.

AND HERE is a tale I shouldn't be tellin', since the good lad is not here to defend himself but this very minute is cookin' away at the St. Francis Yacht Club in Belvedere.

Anyway it has not so much to do with Earl Harkins as his fine wife, Mary, who is probably doin' the same at El Paseo in Mill Valley, and if it's neither Irish stew nor corned beef she's preparin' it's a certainty she'll be turnin' out a rare dish of rost braten or abalone with Bordelaise sauce, both of which were misnamed long before the Irish had a chance to consider them their own.

And this I should add—if Earl must take himself away to the yacht club it's only fair Mary should get credit for the cookin' at El Paseo during his absence. Ye need have no doubt of her skill.

NOW IF YOU think Irish coffee is incompatible with the name Franchini—'tis not so.

Nikki Franchini, who makes this brew at the West End Villa as well as it was ever done in County Down or Kilkenny, may not be a Celt, but he's married to a lovely one. And being the wise man that he is, he named his two sons Brian and Michael.

Michael, by the way, arrived on the scene only last week and it's fittin' that the announcement should appear this St. Patrick's Day.

A NEW OPENING — not a restaurant but for the thirst that bothers ye, is the Dory, 681 Bridgeway, Sausalito, where Bob Foley and Ollie Lambert have made over the Little Willow into their own version of bar and lounge.

'Tis a sad thing that Ollie is only half Irish, but Bob is a true descendant. Faith, and that's reason enough for them to celebrate this day.

SHAUN WILTSHIRE—and a rare specimen of an Irishman he is—has his corned beef and cabbage dinners set for Wednesday nights, and who should be cookin' them but Dario O'Barraza. ('Tis a misnomer, no doubt and he should be called Danny boy.)

But the prime rib on Saturday nights has been cross-bred for true Irish flavor and I'll lay ye odds ye'll not find a shamrock in your garden that will give ye more satisfaction, or me name's not McCraffety.

NOW CHRISTINE BOLTON of Cloud 5, Novato tells me that husband Roy, who departed for Germany last month for his final two-year stint with the Air Force, has written he's catching up on his sleep—ah, there was the one who worked long hours twixt Hamilton Field and Cloud 5.

Meanwhile, it's a fine merchant's lunch she'll be servin' ye at no great cost to yourself, or a good Irish-German or American dinner from $2 to $4. And I have no doubt that tonight Ruth Overly will be playin' Killarney on the organ in the cocktail lounge. 'Tis a pity she does not also plink the harp.

SURE AND IT comes to mind that the new Domenic's restaurant expected to open in San Rafael April 8 has some of the qualities of the Spinnaker in Sausalito.

Both are on the water, though 'tis true they have different views, and they are spotted far back on their properties with parkin' lots in front.

So far back it's possible a newcomer straight from Dublin might have trouble findin' such a place. It's a fact that 507 Francisco Boulevard is no help at all.

But whisht! If a man but raise his eyes to the skies—there will he see such a sight as to leave him no doubt where to turn.

A boat it is, raised so high on piles 'twould appear to have been stranded there by a tidal wave—marking the spot a half-mile away. This you'll know as Domenic's.

What will the Irish think of next?

Strawberry Play Setup To Be Aired

The Strawberry Recreation District will hold a public meeting April 19 to discuss activities and fees of the summer program.

A survey will be started April 1 to determine if there is sufficient interest in instrumental music classes, ballroom dancing and photography to include them in the program.

Architects Rolland B. Hammond and J. Martin Rosse have been requested to prepare specifications and contracts preliminary to calling for bids for grading the recreation center.

PUC Schedules Inverness Water Dispute Hearing

A public hearing before the California Public Utilities Commission in the matter of the Inverness Public Utilities District vs. Inverness Water Co. has been set for 10 a.m. April 25, in the commission courtroom in the State Building in San Francisco.

The hearing was originally scheduled for March 21, but was delayed by the consent of both parties, pending an engineering report and reports from well diggers, according to E. Warren McGuire, county counsel.

The dispute arose over Larry Marks Jr. dividing the original watershed set aside in 1893 by Mrs. Julie Hamilton. Marks purchased the property in 1959 and incorporated the Inverness Water Company the same year.

In 1960, he sold the water company to the Citizens Utility Co. of Stamford, Conn. The sale included only part of the original 360 acres, with Marks retaining part of the 360-acre watershed for himself.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Division of Apprenticeship Standards blames a slump in business conditions for a decrease in the number of workers training for jobs in the building and construction trades. Last January, 453 workers registered for apprenticeship training in the trades. This compares with a nine-year January average of 636.

'Bus Stop' Continuing Run By Ross Players

Three sets of snowbound bus passengers at a wayside eatery conduct riotous and tender romance in "Bus Stop," the William Inge comedy being presented this week by the Ross Valley Players at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

In the second week of its three-day schedule, the three-ring romantic plot of "Bus Stop" is played in a single set of a Kansas restaurant in which the varied passengers of a cross-country bus take refuge from a storm.

Gaetan Ingrassia of San Rafael plays a simple but rambunctious cowboy smitten by a brassy little singer from a stockyard-side night club. Dorothy Schuster, Terra Linda, plays the tarnished "chantoosie" who isn't interested in marital bliss on a lonely Montana ranch.

Regina Waldon of San Anselmo plays the earthy proprietress of the bus stop. The overnight delay of the stormbound bus offers her the chance to solidify her acquaintance with the dashing driver, Ted Schuster.

The third romantic interlude is more ethereal. It concerns a bibulous professor and a teen-age waitress played by Bill Morrisey of Ross and Willie Neuhaus of San Rafael, respectively.

Order and common sense are maintained by Tom Maxwell, playing the small-town sheriff, and Harry Mack as the cowboy's faithful sidekick.

The play, directed by John Brebner, will run tonight, Saturday and Friday and Saturday. Tickets are available at the door or through Orrick Travel Bureau, San Anselmo. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Foreign coins were legal tender in the United States until 1857 when Congress acted to void their legality.

Chamber To Honor Novato Residents

It will be the first in what is planned as an annual honor award. Also at the meeting, newly elected chamber president Irving (Chip) Chapman and other officers will be installed.

The dinner meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Marin Golf Club and will be preceded by a cocktail period beginning at 6:30 p.m. Entertainment will include bagpipe player Gordon Wardlaw of Kentfield and a singing duo. The dinner is open to the public.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

You'll Eat Pizza Or Corned Beef In An Irish Atmosphere Today

A shamrock to your health for St. Patrick's Day—a worthy occasion it is to dine out this very eve, and if ye meet but one Irishman in passing, be his name O'Shaughnessy, Kelly or McAlpin, 'twill make his heart lighter and also your own for having joined with him in celebration.

SURE NOW, I have it on good authority that the original Joe of restaurant fame was not an Italian at all, but an Irishman, else he most certainly would have named his establishment Giuseppi's and there's no room for such a label across the front of 931 Fourth Street, San Rafael, or some others.

Fortunate indeed it is that the entrance to this fine Irish-Italian restaurant is due to be blessed with additional space befittin' the good things within—as soon as the license of the Cricket Liquor Store next door has been transferred to the new Bottle Shop in Tiburon.

The extra room will be used to enlarge San Rafael Joe's both by way of its cocktail lounge and more dining space—but ye need not wait that long to pay a visit. It's a fair piece away yet—two months, at least.

AND HERE is a tale I shouldn't be tellin', since the good lad is not here to defend himself but this very minute is cookin' away at the St. Francis Yacht Club in Belvedere.

Anyway it has not so much to do with Earl Harkins as his fine wife, Mary, who is probably doin' the same at El Paseo in Mill Valley, and if it's neither Irish stew nor corned beef she's preparin' it's a certainty she'll be turnin' out a rare dish of rost braten or abalone with Bordelaise sauce, both of which were misnamed long before the Irish had a chance to consider them their own.

And this I should add—if Earl must take himself away to the yacht club it's only fair Mary should get credit for the cookin' at El Paseo during his absence. Ye need have no doubt of her skill.

NOW IF YOU think Irish coffee is incompatible with the name Franchini—'tis not so.

Nikki Franchini, who makes this brew at the West End Villa as well as it was ever done in County Down or Kilkenny, may not be a Celt, but he's married to a lovely one. And being the wise man that he is, he named his two sons Brian and Michael.

Michael, by the way, arrived on the scene only last week and it's fittin' that the announcement should appear this St. Patrick's Day.

A NEW OPENING — not a restaurant but for the thirst that bothers ye, is the Dory, 681 Bridgeway, Sausalito, where Bob Foley and Ollie Lambert have made over the Little Willow into their own version of bar and lounge.

SHAUN WILTSHIRE—and a rare specimen of an Irishman he is—has his corned beef and cabbage dinners set for Wednesday nights, and who should be cookin' them but Dario O'Barraza. ('Tis a misnomer, no doubt and he should be called Danny boy.)

But the prime rib on Saturday nights has been cross-bred for true Irish flavor and I'll lay ye odds ye'll not find a shamrock in your garden that will give ye more satisfaction, or me name's not McCraffety.

NOW CHRISTINE BOLTON of Cloud 5, Novato tells me that husband Roy, who departed for Germany last month for his final two-year stint with the Air Force, has written he's catching up on his sleep—ah, there was the one who worked long hours twixt Hamilton Field and Cloud 5.

Christine, bless her, is slavin' and workin' away with her brother-in-law, Archie Sawyer, to make Cloud 5 a little bit o' heaven for Roy on his return in March, 1963.

Meanwhile, it's a fine merchant's lunch she'll be servin' ye at no great cost to yourself, or a good Irish-German or American dinner from $2 to $4. And I have no doubt that tonight Ruth Overly will be playin' Killarney on the organ in the cocktail lounge. 'Tis a pity she does not also plink the harp.

SURE AND IT comes to mind that the new Domenic's restaurant expected to open in San Rafael April 8 has some of the qualities of the Spinnaker in Sausalito.

PUC Schedules Inverness Water Dispute Hearing

A public hearing before the California Public Utilities Commission in the matter of the Inverness Public Utilities District vs. Inverness Water Co. has been set for 10 a.m. April 25, in the commission courtroom in the State Building in San Francisco.

The hearing was originally scheduled for March 21, but was delayed by the consent of both parties, pending an engineering report and reports from well diggers, according to E. Warren McGuire, county counsel.

The dispute arose over Larry Marks Jr. dividing the original watershed set aside in 1893 by Mrs. Julie Hamilton. Marks purchased the property in 1959 and incorporated the Inverness Water Company the same year.

Sausalito Plans Cut In Teachers In Budget

Sausalito School District trustees will eliminate the job of district speech therapist as well as cut back three teachers June 30 to try to balance the 1961-62 budget, set tentatively at $597,008.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis said it is possible to cut the inumber of classroom teachers from 45 to 42 in part because the school population of Marin City has shrunk by 45 children. Reshuffling will increase the average class size from 26-27 to 30, he said.

Besides the classroom teachers, the district employs a music teacher, language teacher, boys' physical education teacher and home economics teacher, plus the speech therapist who is to be dropped.

Davis said the school board, in preliminary budget study, had come up with a projected budget of $597,008 with estimated income of $576,354. Four teacher salaries would total about $24,000.

The tax rate, which is $1.75 plus 10 cents override per $100 override for a total of $1.85, will remain the same, he said.

The board decided to increase price of lunches at the four schools from 25 to 30 cents for pupils and from 50 to 60 cents for adults.

Carroll B. Graham, speech therapist with the district for two years, lives in Sausalito at 230 Glen Drive.

The board will hold its next regular meeting Monday.

Republican Unit Will Hear Panel

A panel to discuss welfare programs and a discussion of the recent Republican State Central Committee meeting by Caspar Weinberger, vice chairman of the state committee, will feature Tuesday's meeting of Marin Young Republicans.

The panel will consist of Walter McGovern discussing workingmen's compensation, Douglas Wedell on state disability, Thomas Elliott of state welfare programs, John Schmitz on unemployment benefits, and Robert Sawyer on social security.

Weinberger will also discuss the current political picture.

The meeting is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

Driver Pays Call, House Damaged

It was a most informal call that Miss Clare Ellen Weist of 62 Rancheria Road, Kentfield, paid at 2 a.m. today on her neighbors the Irving J. Lewises at 33 Rancheria Road. She didn't even take her car off.

Miss Weist, 21 and a teller at a San Anselmo bank, when later interviewed in the Lewis dining room admitted that she had not intended to go anywhere but home.

"I must have fallen asleep," said she.

California Highway Patrol investigation showed that the car had strayed off Rancheria to the right, then swerved back violently to the left to enter the Lewis premises with attendant damage to shrubs, lawn, mail box and finally house.

All cars averaged 23.25 miles per gallon with Mobil

The above marks are documentary proof of the mileage potential built into today's cars using Mobil. They were scored on the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run — world's greatest official proof of mileage economy.

Mobil has been economy proved in every make of American car. This year sixty-five cars were entered; they traveled 2561 miles, from Los Angeles to Chicago—over deserts, mountains, crowded city streets. Only Mobil goes to such lengths to demonstrate to you the mileage-economy possible from today's cars.

You can prove this economy in your own car. Fill up with Mobil Regular or Special ... improved with Preptane, the new long-mileage additive. Then do as the Economy Run drivers do: drive properly—avoid "jackrabbit" starts, ease into higher gears quickly, keep a steady foot on the accelerator.

YOU, TOO, CAN GET MORE MILES BETWEEN FILL-UPS WITH

A Volkswagen Pick-up Truck has a 45-square foot flat bed completely level and unobstructed. It carries 1,764 lbs. and it's the most versatile pick-up you're likely to see for some time.

The sides are shown lowered, for use as a platform truck. Raise them and you have a true pick-up. Add a fitted tarpaulin with bows (optional) and you have a 161-cubic-foot covered van. Either way, you also have a weathertight, 23-cubic-foot locker between the axles.

Best of all, the flat bed remains level whether your pick-up is empty or loaded. That's the advantage of having the rear engine to balance the driver up front. And all four wheels are independently sprung by torsion bars. The result: a level ride.

Road Deficiencies In Marin Cited

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was asked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors' public works committee today to get up a preliminary budget of two and one-half million dollars—subject to paring.

This compares with $1,362,000 for last year, of which $1,200,000 was actually used. Current county road deficiency has been estimated in excess of 10 million dollars.

"There's no use in putting in for all our deficiencies—nowhere near enough money," Brigham told committee chairman William D. Fusselman and his associate, Walter R. Castro. "How much money should I figure on?"

But Fusselman preferred the approach of taking before a full board the most urgent deficiencies and working back toward agreement on money needed plus how to get it.

Fusselman and Castro seemed in agreement that the million dollars or so of expected gasoline tax money, plus fines and carry-over funds, should be supplemented by additional money from property tax. They asked Brigham to put details of need up to the board so that the supervisors could battle for their respective districts.

Brigham had prepared a nine-point letter asking policy decisions on points within his jurisdiction. First matter settled was the general approach to road deficiencies. Other problems, some with recommendations:

Should more maintenance work be given to private contractors, as they are demanding? Brigham thought reducing county road crews might mean trouble during times of peak need.

Profit is being made by Larkspur trash dump with an expected $12,000 surplus this year; now it goes into general fund. Should charges be reduced, matters go an as at present, or surplus be put in the capital improvement fund to provide a new site later?

Janitorial service by contractors hasn't been acceptable, said Brigham, recommending return to employing the county's own janitors except for a window washing contract.

There are so many building inspectors fees that fees don't support the work. Brigham said either to raise fees, reduce inspectors (he tried with no luck awhile back) or operate at a deficit.

Cities are asking for aid—Mill Valley wants $50,000 for Miller Avenue-Camino Alto intersection improvement, Corte Madera wants improvement to Paradise Drive, San Rafael expects something—and no agreement has been reached as to formula for such help. "A decision would be appreciated," said Brigham.

2 Youths Flee Juvenile Hall

Two teen-aged boys at Marin Juvenile Hall outran a hall employee about 5 p.m. yesterday and disappeared toward Lucas Valley Road.

Sheriff's deputies continued the search today for David Arvilla, 14, and Aaron Craig, 14. David is 5 feet 10 inches, 180 pounds and has brown hair. Aaron stands 5 feet 7 inches, weighs 145 pounds and has blue eyes and brown hair. Both were wearing jeans and sweat shirts zipper to the neck.

Hartland S. Brown, an employee at juvenile hall, had taken the two boys to the Marin County Hospital to bring back dinners for inmates of juvenile hall. Brown said he opened the door to let the two boys in, and they bolted.

College Offers Tenure To Three Teachers

In closed, executive session last night, College of Marin trustees offered tenure to three teachers, and voted to continue employment of 14 probationary teachers not yet eligible for tenure.

Trustees George G. Washburn and Rupert E. Kempf were not present. Four years of probationary teaching are required for tenure.

Offered tenure as of next September were: Edward Grimm, physical education instructor; Charles Mastin, librarian, and Gwendolyn Schultz, assistant librarian.

Probationary contracts will again be offered to:

Robert Becklund, English; Mrs. Lorna Blair, mathematics; Irene Clark, speech and drama; Edwin D. Erbentraut, English; Mrs. Mary Fedde, home economics; Dr. Margaret Duncan Greene, counselling; James Heig, English and journalism; Mrs. Doris Meyer, art; Alphonso Molino, biology; John Myers, music; Jacqueline Nettles, physical education; Alton R. Raible, art; Henry W. Scalapino, psychology, and Leonard Weiss, English.

The trustees accepted resignations, effective June 30, of Margaret L. Boerst, business education; Dorothy Anderson, business education and counselling, and Irwin Gressinger, electronics.

Also accepted was the resignation of Grace Donnan, registrar at the college since 1931, who will retire in August.

The board designated California Pacific Title Co. to handle purchase of a 50-by-50 foot strip of property adjoining the college along Stadium Way from the Kent Woodlands Co. for $39,267. The county counsel was authorized to execute the transaction.

Seven School Hopefuls Fi'e

Seven more candidates for Marin County School board trusteeships had filed notice up to noon today with the county superintendent of schools for the April 18 election.

Prospective candidates were required to file by the 5 p.m. deadline today.

Five Felons Indicted By Grand Jury

Five San Quentin Prison convicts, including a man who went AWOL for three months and got as far as Chicago, were indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last night.

The escapee is Paul J. McFarland, who is serving time for felony assault and robbery in Sacramento. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said McFarland was doing carpenter work in the administration building outside the prison walls last May when he vanished. The district attorney has reason to believe that the convict jumped a fence, hid behind the Greenbrae Bowl, and then hitched rides to San Francisco. He was captured in Chicago last August.

Two other San Quentin inmates were indicted for attempted escape, and two for illegal weapons possession.

Hadden Roth and Charles L. Convis, deputies in the district attorney's office, presented the cases before the grand jurors.

The grand jury also signed an indictment against three persons for allegedly perjuring themselves during a trial in Marin court. The names of those accused of perjury cannot be disclosed until after they have been arrested, Convis explained.

FAR CRY FROM OLD CAMPGROUND

This is an artist's conception of the "community center" for a new 170-car "mobile home park" under construction on Auburn Street behind the Marin Motor Movies south of San Rafael. The center will contain swimming pool, barbecue pits, shuffle boards, laundry facilities, assembly hall seating 150 persons, car wash area and a beauty parlor. Each trailer space in the park will have telephone, electrical and sewer connections available. Architectural consultant for the project is John Lubicz-Nycz of Mill Valley. Engineers are Bala and Strandgaard of Corte Madera. Installation of underground facilities is expected to begin within a month when filling and grading operations, now under way, are completed.

Future Population, Income Forecast In Larkspur's New Five-Year Plan

A five-year plan for the City of Larkspur—projecting population, income, operating costs and manpower needs through the year 1965—was placed in the hands of city councilmen this week.

The study, drawn up over the past eight months by City Manager Ronald E. Piper, will form the basis for discussions beginning with an open forum in the city hall next Wednesday night.

Piper's five-year plan, he emphasized today, has not been approved by the councilmen. They saw it for the first time at the conclusion of Wednesday night's council meeting, Piper said.

Terming any projection into the future "a guess," Piper told the council that the report was prepared as merely a help "in establishing the type of community we are developing and showing the problems involved in attempting to provide services to its residents."

1. The city's population by 1965 will be 8,000 persons residing in some 3,000 dwelling units. (The city's present population of 5,710 live in 2,074 units.) The "ultimate" population of the city was estimated at 18,000, representing a "saturation" of all available building sites.

2. The ultimate area of the city, which could possibly be reached by 1965, will be "somewhat in excess of three square miles. (Present total area: 2.77 square miles.)

3. The assessed valuation of the city will reach about 16 million dollars by 1965. (Present assessed valuation: $9,980,880.)

4. The city will continue to be primarily residential in character with property taxes providing the major source of revenue.

5. City personnel in almost every department must be increased to provide service to an expanded population.

"The survey indicates that past and present expenditures for capital improvements are not adequate to meet the needs of the growing community," Piper said.

"Expected increases in assessed value, when related to the present tax rate, will not provide adequate funds to meet the cost of expanded services which will be required," he said. "Estimates indicate a 64 per cent increase in operating costs while only a 34 per cent increase in revenue is anticipated."

If the city is to maintain the level of service now given," added revenue must be secured," Piper said.

Additional revenue could come through (A) added county contribution to cities for major streets, and (B) bills now pending before the state legislature which, if passed, would increase city income from gasoline and vehicle registration taxes.

Other possible means of upping the city's income are (A) increasing the general property tax, (B) addition of special taxes, and (C) general obligation bonds.

"These means of providing additional revenue are listed for the information of the council and those who may be interested," Piper stressed. Their inclusion in his report "Should not be construed as a recommendation," he said.

The present general property tax of 87 cents per $100 assessed valuation could be increased to the maximum allowable rate of $1 without a vote of the people. Also without a vote, a maximum of 20 cents could be levied for storm drainage and flood control; the present nine-cent library tax rate could be increased to 30 cents, and special tax could be levied to pay the cost of employee retirement funds.

Requiring a simple majority vote of the electorate would be a maximum tax of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for construction and maintenance of parks.

Requiring a two-thirds majority vote would be a maximum tax rate of 50 cents for public improvements. Bond issues also require two-thirds favoritable vote.

Piper estimated that some $12,800 a year should be appropriated for improving and widening of local streets. In addition, the report said "a major aterial street deficiency amounting to well over one million dollars by 1980 must be corrected. "The major street program will require approximately $50,000 a year to correct deficiencies indicated in the 1960 street deficiency report."

The city's storm drainage system, described by Piper as "inadequate and in poor condition (except in the Greenbrae and Bon Air areas)" will require a yearly allocation of from $5,000 to $7,000. "To gradually better the general condition of the entire system," he wrote.

As to capital improvements in the fire department, Piper said construction of the Greenbrae station would answer the department housing problem for the ultimate development of the city.

In the police department, "future growth will require added space for police as well as for other office functions. The only other major item to be considered is that of patrol cars, which will be required as the activities of the department are expanded."

The present police force of a chief and two patrolmen should be increased to a chief, sergeant, desk clerk and four patrolmen, the report indicated.

Suggested increase in the fire department would bring the present force of a chief, assistant chief and four full-time men to a total of 10 men, including the chief and his assistant.

The office of building inspector, now a part-time function, should be increased to full time "at least by 1963-64," Piper wrote.

In the street department, Piper suggested addition of two men and a gardener within the next five years.

Although he gave no figures on park development, Piper said: "The growing demand for additional park and recreational facilities is one which must be given a great deal of consideration in planning an improvement program.

"Annexation of Kentfield and the Kent Woodlands area is not likely during the period of this report and is, therefore, not considered," Piper said. "There is a possibility, however, that either the Greenbrae area or the balance of Murray Park, or both, could become a part of the city during the five year period we are considering."

Jury To Get Slaying Trial Of Ex-Barber

WOODLAND (UPI)—The murder trial of Elwood J. Williams, former San Rafael barber, charged with fatally shooting his wife, was expected to go to the jury here today.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas Purtell in closing arguments yesterday asked the jury to find Williams guilty "of what he is—a first degree murderer." Purtell did not ask for the death penalty.

Yolo county public defender Lewis Shearer argued that Williams did not intend to murder his estranged wife, Holly Germaine, when he went to her sister's home in nearby Davis where she was visiting Nov. 10. Shearer said it was a case of involuntary manslaughter.

Williams shot his wife while visiting her shortly after she had announced plans to divorce him. The couple's child had been sent to stay with Mrs. Williams' parents in Coos Bay, Ore.

Kennedy Wants Cent Added To Mail Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration wants a one-cent increase in the present postage rates for letters, postcards and airmail, and boosts for other classes of mail.

Ralph W. Nicholson, assistant postmaster general-designate for finance, said yesterday the request for the across-the-board increase would be made soon, aimed at bringing in an additional 831 million dollars a year.

Nicholson said the increased rate for letters, postcards and airmail would bring in an estimated 430 million dollars, while the other boosts would bring in another 401 million dollars.

He presented the plan to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Lindsley H. Noble, deputy assistant postmaster general, said the post office deficit for the 1962 fiscal year, starting July 1, now is estimated at 831 million dollars, just the amount of the proposed increases.

Sifting Of Red Mail To Be Halted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today ordered an immediate halt to government interception of Communist propaganda mail from behind the Iron Curtain.

The White House said an administration review of the program, which has been in effect since 1948, has disclosed that it "serves no useful intelligence function at the present time."

In addition, the White House said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk has been concerned about the program in view of "efforts to improve cultural exchanges with Communist countries."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today ordered an immediate halt to government interception of Communist propaganda mail from behind the Iron Curtain.

The White House said an administration review of the program, which has been in effect since 1948, has disclosed that it "serves no useful intelligence function at the present time."

In addition, the White House said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk has been concerned about the program in view of "efforts to improve cultural exchanges with Communist countries."

Mill Valley's Lentz Gets Jaycee Award

Jack R. Lentz, managing editor of the Mill Valley Record, was warded the annual distinguished service award by the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce in ceremonies last night at the Alpine Lodge.

Lentz, 32, who had lived in Mill Valley four years, was presented the award by Mayor Robert D. Huber as the outstanding young man, under the age of 36, in the community. With the award he received a plaque inscribed "Young Man of the Year."

The rain storm caused electricity to go off at the beginning of the banquet and the meeting was held in candle light for 90 minutes.

Key man awards were made to Mill Valley Jaycees Robert Cooldige, Douglas Green and L. R. (Pat) Patterson.

The Independent-Journal was presented a certificate of appreciation, accepted for it by Wishard A. Brown, business manager, for "inestimable benefits which have accrued from a cordial relationship." Similar certificates went to radio station KTIM, the Mill Valley Record and the Marin News. James J. Lange of San Rafael and Al Collins of Terra Linda, radio announcers for station KSFO, also received a certificates.

They include:

New administrative and counselling facilities to be housed in one building, with present facilities used for these purposes converted to classrooms.

A student cafeteria, including a lounge, store and eating facilities "would undoubtedly make a large contribution to the morale of the students," Hall said.

"The shower and locker rooms of the gymnasium are nearly at capacity with the present enrollment," Hall told the trustees. "Long before the enrollment doubles, the present gym facilities will be extremely inadequate."

The architect's report urged consideration of the problem of an auditorium along with that of a gymnasium. "If an auditorium is to be provided," Hall said, "the requirements for dramatics and music should be combined into a building complex. If not, then these requirements would be considered for possible inclusion in the gymnasium."

The report also suggested provision in the master plan for "Miscellaneous needs for additional faculty offices, supply storage and a corporation yard."

world body, conference officials explained.

Although the communique made no direct reference to Red China, it is known that all the statesmen were agreed no world disarmament pact would have a meaning without Peiping's signature.

The only mention of South Africa in the statement, issued in the name of the 13 leaders, recalled that Prime Minister Hendrik E. Verwoerd Wednesday chose to withdraw his country's bid for continuing membership in the Commonwealth.

Summarizing their views on the United Nations, the Commonwealth leaders agreed adjustments should be made in the structure of the world body but stressed the importance of preserving the international and independent nature of its secretariat. This appeared to be a rejection of Russia's demand for three secretaries general, one each from the communist, western and neutral blocs.

But the leaders—representing nearly 700 million people of most political, color and religious shades—underlined that disarmament is the world's most important problem.

They said the big powers face a favorable opportunity to seek an agreement on disarmament. The aim of any such pact "must be nothing less than complete abolition of means of waging war of any kind."

Board Candidate Has Four Children

Lothar Salin, candidate for San Rafael Board of Education, has four children in the city's schools rather than only two as it would appear from the biographical sketch which was printed in the Independent-Journal yesterday.

Material for the sketch of Salin was taken from biographical data furnished several years ago and inadvertently was not updated. Salin's children are Philip, 11; Anthony, 9; Patricia, 7; Douglas, 6, and George, one year.

Salin is a past president of the San Rafael Optimist Club, the Marin Toastmaster Club, Parks and Recreation Committee chairman for three years, member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. He helped found and is a director of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation.

Gronquist will be in San Francisco next Thursday for a meeting of transit directors, at which time he will formally present his report and answer questions. Directors and staff of the Golden Gate Bridge have been invited to attend the meeting and have indicated they will be present.

Bridge directors already have indicated what they will do with the report. They will submit it to their engineers, as yet unnamed, who will study it and report back to the directors. Not until then will the bridge board decide whether it will even enter into discussions with transit directors on practicality of such a transit system or an agreement on financial arrangements.

Transit board president Adrien Falk said yesterday the transit district is willing "to make a lease arrangement or anything else" with the bridge district to put trains on the bridge. "We don't want to run the bridge district," he declared.

How long it will take the bridge district to reach a decision is of concern to the transit officials. Keneth Hoover, transit chief engineer, said he assumed a full engineering review of the report by the bridge engineers "would take several months." However, both he and Falk hoped that a decision could be reached by Aug. 1, date in the transit timetable when the full transit program is to be submitted to the county board of supervisors in the five counties involved for their required approval.

Ship-Lumber Exec Found Dead In Pool

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Requiem Mass will be celebrated today for William C. Talbot, 42, part owner of the Pope and Talbot Lumber and Shipping Co. of San Francisco, who was found drowned in his swimming pool yesterday.

Talbot's wife, Frances, found him in the pool of their home last evening and immediately called police officers and firemen. Efforts to revive the victim were in vain.

The wealthy business leader, who had interests in the Bay Region and the Pacific Northwest, was born in San Francisco and had been a Palm Springs resident since the early postwar years.

Besides his wife, Talbot is survived by three children by a previous marriage, William Jr., Judith Lee and Peter Robin, and a sister, Mrs. Eric Cramer of Long Beach. He was related also to Andrew C. Talbot, large north Marin County landowner.

Interment will take place in San Francisco.

Gronquist will be in San Francisco next Thursday for a meeting of transit directors, at which time he will formally present his report and answer questions. Directors and staff of the Golden Gate Bridge have been invited to attend the meeting and have indicated they will be present.

Bridge directors already have indicated what they will do with the report. They will submit it to their engineers, as yet unnamed, who will study it and report back to the directors. Not until then will the bridge board decide whether it will even enter into discussions with transit directors on practicality of such a transit system or an agreement on financial arrangements.

Transit board president Adrien Falk said yesterday the transit district is willing "to make a lease arrangement or anything else" with the bridge district to put trains on the bridge. "We don't want to run the bridge district," he declared.

How long it will take the bridge district to reach a decision is of concern to the transit officials. Keneth Hoover, transit chief engineer, said he assumed a full engineering review of the report by the bridge engineers "would take several months." However, both he and Falk hoped that a decision could be reached by Aug. 1, date in the transit timetable when the full transit program is to be submitted to the county board of supervisors in the five counties involved for their required approval.

OBITUARIES

Ship-Lumber Exec Found Dead In Pool

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Requiem Mass will be celebrated today for William C. Talbot, 42, part owner of the Pope and Talbot Lumber and Shipping Co. of San Francisco, who was found drowned in his swimming pool yesterday.

Talbot's wife, Frances, found him in the pool of their home last evening and immediately called police officers and firemen. Efforts to revive the victim were in vain.

The wealthy business leader, who had interests in the Bay Region and the Pacific Northwest, was born in San Francisco and had been a Palm Springs resident since the early postwar years.

Besides his wife, Talbot is survived by three children by a previous marriage, William Jr., Judith Lee and Peter Robin, and a sister, Mrs. Eric Cramer of Long Beach. He was related also to Andrew C. Talbot, large north Marin County landowner.

Interment will take place in San Francisco.

College Basketball Bribe Scandal Uncovered In N.Y.

Two Men Arrested For Point-Shaving Attempt

NEW YORK (AP)—Two men were arrested today in a new outbreak of college basketball betting scandals reminiscent of the bribe cases of 1951.

The district attorney's office announced that the arrests grew out of an inquiry into two games — the Colgate-University of Connecticut game at Hamilton, N.Y., March 1 and the Seton Hall-Dayton game Feb. 9 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Peter D. Andrioli, assistant district attorney, said a Connecticut player received $1,500 to shave points in the March game.

Seton Hall players were involved in the game with Dayton, he added. He did not immediately identify any of them or say how many were involved.

The two men arrested were Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hacken, both of New York.

They were charged with conspiracy to bribe a basketball player. Wagman also was charged with attempting to bribe a detective.

Andrioli said "$1,000 apiece" was involved in the case of the unidentified Seton Hall players.

He said other schools and players are subject to investigation. He declined to name them.

Wagman is 28 and Hacken is 41, Andrioli said. Both said they were unemployed.

OTHERS QUIZZED

Andrioli said the inquiry began at the start of the basketball season. Many other persons are believed interrogated, he added.

The district attorney's office said the alleged Wagman conspiracy took place Feb. 28 in connection with the March 1 game. Hacken's alleged conspiracy took place Feb. 9.

Many of the nation's leading teams, including City College of New York, Bradley and the University of Kentucky, were involved in betting scandals which swept college basketball competition in 1951.

Scores of players were drawn into the huge net. Players were accused of taking bribes from gamblers to fix the point spread in big games, most of them at Madison Square Garden.

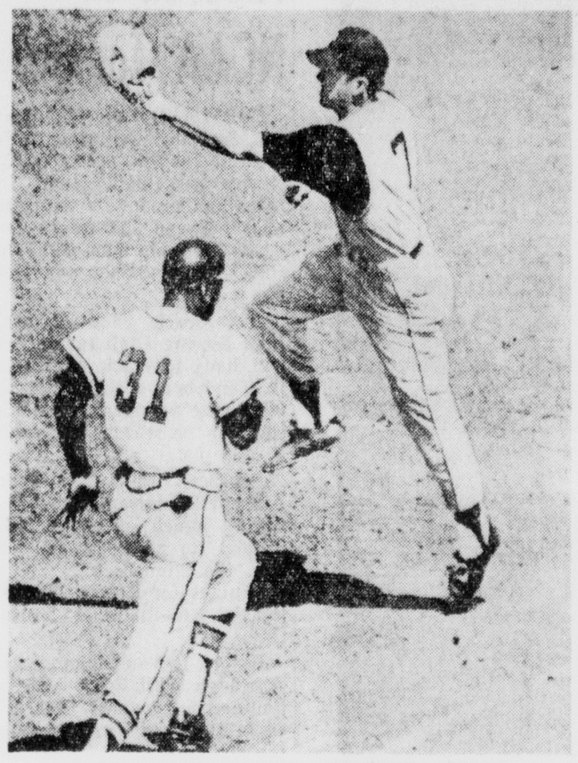
Dayton and Colgate were favorites, but the betting spread was not immediately available.

Police said both Wagman and Hacken were gamblers functioning in an almost nationwide syndicate in which bookmakers were described as the victims.

Both have figured in previous bribery cases involving sports, police said.

Wagman was involved in an attempt to bribe a University of Florida football player last November, police added, and Hacken figured in a fix involving Clarence Henry, a heavyweight boxer, in 1954.

Henry was charged with offering a middleweight, Bobby Jones, $15,000 to throw a fight with Joey Giardello. Henry pleaded guilty and received a suspended sentence of one to three years in prison.



CHAMPS MAKE ERRORS, TOO

Throwing error by shortstop Dick Groat of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates draws first baseman Dick Stuart off the bag and enables Milwaukee's Mack Jones to cross safely in exhibition game yesterday. Pirates went on to win, however, 7-2. Game was played at Bradenton, Fla. (AP Wirephoto)

Rookie Charlie Hiller Strong Threat To Blazer For Giants' Keystone Job

PHOENIX, Ariz.—A young college graduate who came virtually unnoted to the San Francisco Giants' spring training camp might well leave as the club's most promising rookie.

In the first six spring exhibition games, the 25-year-old Hiller has collected six hits in 16 trips to the plate for a .375 average.

Yesterday, as the Giants beat the Boston Red Sox 7-4 to put their spring exhibition record at 3-3, Hiller collected a pair of singles in four trips to the plate.

"I've learned a lot every year that I've been in organized baseball," Hiller declared. "I was lucky to have had good managers each year."

Hiller signed into the Cleveland organization after graduating from St. Thomas for a bonus he terms "so little I don't talk about it."

In 1957 at Cocoa, Fla., he hit .293 and followed with .281 at Minot, N.D., in the Northern League. Then the Giants drafted him from the Indians and he hit .341 at Eugene, Ore., in 1959.

"I started out as a shortstop but after a half season at Cocoa, Manager Hank Majeski switched me to second base," Hiller explained. "I like the position better."

It's too early for Manager Alvin Dark to be making any decisions on which youngsters stay with the club, but he does say that to date, "Hiller has done a good job."

Tom Haller, another college graduate, proved the hitting star yesterday with a triple and double in his only two times at the plate. He scored runs after both hits—in the sixth and eighth innings.

Heller, a former University of Illinois quarterback, battles for one of the catching berths on the club.

Stu Miller was the winning pitcher as he went five innings, giving up two-run homers in the first to Jackie Jensen and in the fifth to Vic Wertz.

As the Giants battled the Chicago Cubs in Mesa today, Dark pulled a switch by sending Orlando Cepeda to right field. The big Puerto Rican, who won rookie honors as a first baseman in 1958, played left field last year. Willie Mays drew the day off with Harvey Kuenn ticketed for center field. In his previous two games, Kuenn has played third base and right field.

Giants Lack Outstanding Rookie Hurler; Bobby Bolin Too Wild

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — At this midway mark of the 1961 training camp season there still isn't a standout prospect among the batch of rookie pitchers seeking permanent status on the Giant roster.

There are some who say Bobby Bolin will make it, but the big boy from Greenville, S.C., is going to need more than his sidearming fast ball to qualify. He must learn how to control it.

When we first saw him throw we thought his wildness was due to nervousness or stage fright and that he would settle down. But after three weeks in camp the initial nervousness should have departed.

So we checked on his past performances, not just the 10-4 at Harlington last year or the 2-4 at Tacoma when he moved up to the PCL, but how he pitched. A PCL scout told us he fired wildly at Tacoma and not just in one game.

Bolin isn't as wild as Joe Shipley, but his control problem has prompted more than one observer in camp to remark, "He reminds me of Shipley." Maybe the 6-foot-4 right hander will suddenly recapture the elusive control secret which he must have had in 1959 when he turned in a sensational 29-8 at Eugene.

HE IS only 21 so there still is plenty of time to groom him for the big team. And he is going to get every opportunity to make good.

The Giants don't want to make another mistake like the one they made on Ernie Broglio. They gave up on Broglio too soon and last season Ernie justified the faith St. Louis had in him with a 21-9 season. No one in the Giant organization has stepped forward to accept the blame for not having the same patience with Broglio as was shown Shipley.

ALVIN DARK still confines his remarks about the pitching staff to generalities except for his earlier announcement that Mike McCormick and Juan Marichal definitely will be starters and not used in relief except in the most dire of circumstances.

"My pitching coach Larry Jansen may talk me out of it before the season starts," said Dark, "but now I'm thinking not of four starting pitchers but five.

"I don't want to feel I have to call on someone who might not be ready. If a young pitcher's arm is going to be hurt by overwork, or pitching when he doesn't feel in shape, I don't want to be the one who hurts it. I don't want to be the one who wrecks a career that might otherwise have gone 10 years longer.

"I'VE SEEN too many cases where a pitcher gets involved in a couple of extra-inning games pretty close together and he's never as good for you again. It's hard to explain. But I know it happens.

"I'd rather have records like, say 16-8 for my top pitchers than a 20-game winner who has been overworked and maybe has 15 losses.

"The Yankees haven't had a lot of 20-game winners. But they have had a lot who win 16, 17 or 18. They seem to win pennants often enough, too."

Joe Arenas Sought On Forgery Rap

SAN JOSE (AP) — Joe Arenas, former San Francisco 49er pro football star, was charged yesterday with forgery in a complaint issued by the Santa Clara County district attorney's office. Arenas is being sought.

Sheriff's detectives said Arenas, who moved from San Jose last spring, is charged with forging the name of a business partner on a $264 check at the Bank of America branch in San Jose's Willow Glen district several months ago.

Investigators said Arenas and another man, whose name was not disclosed, planned to go into business together in Santa Cruz and had put up some money. When the deal fell through, a refund check was made out to both of them.

But Arenas cashed the check by signing both names, detectives said.

Arenas left the 49ers after the 1958 season.

Novato Nips Petaluma On Key Hit By Jones

Joe Jones cracked a two-run single in the fourth inning yesterday to give the Novato Hornets a 2-0 victory over Petaluma in a non-league baseball contest at Novato.

Setting up Jones' timely blow were Lu Haas, who drew a walk, and Don Scribner, who was safe on an error of his bunt. Both runners advanced to scoring position on a fielder's choice play, and then Jones came through with his winning hit.

Larry Hale hurled for Novato, striking out seven and walking only one in five innings on the mound. The game was abbreviated to five innings because of rain.

There are some who say Bobby Bolin will make it, but the big boy from Greenville, S.C., is going to need more than his sidearming fast ball to qualify. He must learn how to control it.

When we first saw him throw we thought his wildness was due to nervousness or stage fright and that he would settle down. But after three weeks in camp the initial nervousness should have departed.

So we checked on his past performances, not just the 10-4 at Harlington last year or the 2-4 at Tacoma when he moved up to the PCL, but how he pitched. A PCL scout told us he fired wildly at Tacoma and not just in one game.

Bolin isn't as wild as Joe Shipley, but his control problem has prompted more than one observer in camp to remark, "He reminds me of Shipley." Maybe the 6-foot-4 right hander will suddenly recapture the elusive control secret which he must have had in 1959 when he turned in a sensational 29-8 at Eugene.

HE IS only 21 so there still is plenty of time to groom him for the big team. And he is going to get every opportunity to make good.

The Giants don't want to make another mistake like the one they made on Ernie Broglio. They gave up on Broglio too soon and last season Ernie justified the faith St. Louis had in him with a 21-9 season. No one in the Giant organization has stepped forward to accept the blame for not having the same patience with Broglio as was shown Shipley.

ALVIN DARK still confines his remarks about the pitching staff to generalities except for his earlier announcement that Mike McCormick and Juan Marichal definitely will be starters and not used in relief except in the most dire of circumstances.

"My pitching coach Larry Jansen may talk me out of it before the season starts," said Dark, "but now I'm thinking not of four starting pitchers but five.

"I don't want to feel I have to call on someone who might not be ready. If a young pitcher's arm is going to be hurt by overwork, or pitching when he doesn't feel in shape, I don't want to be the one who hurts it. I don't want to be the one who wrecks a career that might otherwise have gone 10 years longer.

"I'VE SEEN too many cases where a pitcher gets involved in a couple of extra-inning games pretty close together and he's never as good for you again. It's hard to explain. But I know it happens.

"I'd rather have records like, say 16-8 for my top pitchers than a 20-game winner who has been overworked and maybe has 15 losses.

"The Yankees haven't had a lot of 20-game winners. But they have had a lot who win 16, 17 or 18. They seem to win pennants often enough, too."

Joe Arenas Sought On Forgery Rap

SAN JOSE (AP) — Joe Arenas, former San Francisco 49er pro football star, was charged yesterday with forgery in a complaint issued by the Santa Clara County district attorney's office. Arenas is being sought.

Sheriff's detectives said Arenas, who moved from San Jose last spring, is charged with forging the name of a business partner on a $264 check at the Bank of America branch in San Jose's Willow Glen district several months ago.

Investigators said Arenas and another man, whose name was not disclosed, planned to go into business together in Santa Cruz and had put up some money. When the deal fell through, a refund check was made out to both of them.

But Arenas cashed the check by signing both names, detectives said.

Arenas left the 49ers after the 1958 season.

Joe Jones cracked a two-run single in the fourth inning yesterday to give the Novato Hornets a 2-0 victory over Petaluma in a non-league baseball contest at Novato.

Setting up Jones' timely blow were Lu Haas, who drew a walk, and Don Scribner, who was safe on an error of his bunt. Both runners advanced to scoring position on a fielder's choice play, and then Jones came through with his winning hit.

Larry Hale hurled for Novato, striking out seven and walking only one in five innings on the mound. The game was abbreviated to five innings because of rain.

Rigney Highly Optimistic About Angels; Great Spirit In Camp

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—"If you can't stop, wave as you go by."

That is the lettering on a sign in a lonely gas station in the Arizona desert. As I read it I thought of Bill Rigney and his Los Angeles Angels.

Every club in the American League figures to clobber the ex-Giant manager's club. I can't agree. For the first time since he was relieved last June, I talked with "Rig" here the other day.

Intense as ever, colorful, and with fervor and a great desire to win, Rigney shook hands, said he hoped I liked what I saw and thought he would have a club SOON that might look and act as a big league club ought to act.

Red Kress, one of Rigney's coaches and an old pal, told me that in his 35 years in baseball he has never seen so much enthusiasm in a training squad.

BOB ELLIOTT, another coach who managed the Kansas City team last season, claims the present Angels are better than the K.C.'s were in 1960.

Rigney, as usual, is highly optimistic. He says the best thing about having a "new" club is that every player came into camp with the idea he would get a chance to make the team. Nobody is a cinch.

Fellows like Eli Grba, Duke Maas and Ken Hunt, formerly of the Yankee feed roll, surprisingly are happy. They feel that with the Angels they'll get a chance to play regularly.

Jerry Casale, former Seal and Boston Red Sox flinger, claims he learned more listening to and accepting the advice of Marv Grissom, pitching coach, than from anyone in baseball.

Fellows like Bob Cerv, Ted Kluszewski, Steve Bilko, Eddie Yost, Earl Averill and Julio Bacquer ought to hit quite a few out of the Angels' park.

Big Klu is having his best spring since he injured his back in 1957. Last year he couldn't play an inning until three weeks after the camp opened. This spring he played the first intra-squad game and each game to date.

The Angel outfield, especially defensively with Cerv, Hunt and Albie Pearson, is strong. If Hunt hits, he may have power.

Defensively the infield may be weak on the right with Klu and Ken Aspromonte, but with Ken Hamlin or Gene Leek at short and Yost at third they should do okay.

AVERILL, Del Rice and Ed Sadowski give the club fair catching. The pitching, however, is a horse of another color. The Angels have several youngsters who are several years away, so it will be up to fellows like Casale, Clevenger, McBride, Garver, Maas and Grba with the possibility that Jack Harshman, trying to come back at 34 years of age, may be a sleeper.

From the folks I have talked to here and around the Arizona circuit, they think of the Angels as a ninth place club, but they could fool the experts.

But as I say, I hope, when the other nine American League clubs go floating by the Angels, "if they can't stop," I hope they wave.

Holy Cross St. Louis Win NIT Openers

Holy Cross, battling back from a 10-point deficit midway through the second half, whipped favored Detroit, 86-82, and St. Louis, a nine-point favorite, nipped Miami (Fla.), 58-56, on a layup at the buzzer yesterday to launch the 24th annual NIT in fine style before a crowd of 13,238 at Madison Square Garden.

"I figured if we could hold (Dave) Debusschere to 20 points and keep (John) Morgan from driving off the pivot too much our hot shooting would take care of the rest," was the way Leenig explained his pre-game strategy. And as it turned out, Leenig must rate as a prophet of sorts.

The smaller but more maneuverable Crusaders, 2½ point underdogs, held Debusschere to 18 points and contained Morgan, a 6-6 driver, pretty much the way Leenig expected them to while Jack (The Shot) Foley, George Blaney and Tim Shea took care of the shooting to gain a quarter-final berth against Memphis State.

Bennington, displeased with his team's effort, nevertheless, was willing to forgive and forget, and you couldn't exactly blame him. With the score tied, 56-all, Miami in possession for a final shot and the clock ticking off the final seconds, Don Reid stole the ball from little Dick Hickok, passed to Tom Kieffer under the basket all alone and the St. Louis guard laid it up for the winning points just as the buzzer sounded.

INGO RECEIVES $12,000 TO TIDE HIM OVER

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson will have $12,000 from receipts of Monday night's heavyweight championship fight with Floyd Patterson to use as expense money until his tax case with the U. S. government comes up March 23.

Federal Judge Emett Choate granted Johansson that sum yesterday after the Swedish fighter, through his attorneys, said he was broke. Johansson and asked for $15,000.

The government, which claims Johansson owes more than $1 million in income taxes earned in his last two fights with Patterson, has obtained an injunction tying up Johansson's share of the profits of Monday night's fight.

It is estimated Johansson will gross about $700,000 for the fight at Miami Beach, when he was knocked out in the sixth round.

HELPFUL HINTS—Richard Nave of Nave Lanes takes time out to give some pointers to Mrs. Hazel Reeves of Mill Valley, a faithful member of the adult recreation program of the Marin Society of Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Waiting her turn in background is Mrs. Alice Lehman of Corte Madera. Wheelchair bowling is a weekly feature for the recreation program at Nave Lanes.

TEAMMATES AGAIN — Mr. and Mrs. Odus Folsom of Ignacio used to enjoy bowling together until she developed polio. Now they are able to take part again in the wheelchair program at Nave Lanes. Above Folsom helps his wife at the foul line.

Bowling In Wheelchairs Big Success

Bowling in the conventional manner is difficult enough, but did you ever try it seated in a wheelchair?

That's one of the projects of the adult recreation participants of Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. at Nave Lanes in Ignacio each Tuesday, and the program has been described as a big success.

That program has hit one snag, however—transportation for the participants. Mrs. Gertrude Cherry of San Anselmo, chairman for the recreation program, has asked for assistance in this problem. Anyone interested in providing transportation each Tuesday should contact Mrs. Cherry.

Nave Lanes has provided excellent instruction for the wheelchair bowlers, Mrs. Cherry said. Rich Nave is in charge at the lanes.

ROLLING BOWLERS

Old Man Par Clobbered At Start Of St. Pete Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If old man par—he's 71—had a voice he'd be squealing with anguish at the Pasadena Golf Club today.

Seldom has the old man taken a beating such as he took in the opening round of the St. Petersburg Open yesterday, and if the lashing continues in the second round of the $20,000 72-hole event today a 36-hole score of 140 will be lucky to survive the cut to the low 60 and ties tonight.

Two players—Jack McGowan and Billy Casper Jr.—shot 63s to lead the field and break the course record by a stroke.

Seventy-eight players, or about half the field, were under par and 93 of the 159 entrants were par or better.

Casper had a six-under-par 29 for the home nine, and got his 63 despite two bogies.

McGowan, 30, assistant pro at Toledo, Ohio, who makes his home at Clearwater, Fla., got his 32-31 with 8 birdies and 10 pars.

That 63 looked like it would stand alone until Casper, the former National Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif., plodded in with his 34-29 late in the afternoon to get a share of the lead.

Five contestants—Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Aaron, Don Fairfield, Gary Player and Frank Wharton—were tied at 66, and 13 were in the 67 bracket. The 68 class was jammed with 19 players.

Trojans, Utes Favored In NCAA Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Utah and Southern California were favored to win second-round NCAA basketball games tonight and produce a Saturday duel between the west's two outstanding big men, Bill (The Hill) McGill and John Rudometkin.

But Coach Jack Garner's high scoring Utah team, 21-6, will have to crack an NCAA jinx and beat a strong Loyola team that whipped it soundly early in the season. They play at 7:30 p.m.

Southern Cal, 21-6, faces darkhorse Arizona State, a speedy bunch of clutch kids primed for an upset, at 9:30 p.m. the winners play Saturday night for a spot in next week's semi-finals at Kansas City.

Loyola, 19-6 and champion of the tough West Coast Athletic Conference, downed Utah 85-64 in the Utes' first game of the season.

OPENING ROUNDS

Utah and Loyola qualified for the second round by winning in their conferences. Southern Cal made it by edging Oregon 81-79 and Arizona State got in by beating Seattle 72-70 here Wednesday night in first round games.

Last season Utah came into the Western Regionals as a favorite and lost to Oregon.

McGill, a 6-9 junior, has a 27.5 scoring average for the Utes who have an 80-point team average. Utah downed defensive minded Colorado State 55-51 in the Skyline Conference playoff.

Loyola is sparked by Ed Bento, a 6-6 junior from Hilo, Hawaii, who scored 429 points during the season and hit about half his field goal attempts.

ALL-AMERICA STARS

Rudometkin, like McGill a second-team UPI All-America, hit his season's average—24 points—for the Trojans against Oregon and appeared fully recovered from a leg muscle injury. Eighteen of those points came in the second half while he had four personal fouls.

"Arizona State is as good a basketball team as Oregon," Coach Forrest Twogood of the fifth-ranked Trojans said. "I hope they won't be as tough."

Arizona State, down 11 points at the half, came from behind to defeat Seattle on some fine clutch shooting by red-headed Gerry Hahn. Hahn got most of his points late in the game, including the deciding field goal at the final whistle.

Russ Tennis Team Invited To U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Lawn Tennis Assn. has invited Russia to send a tennis team to compete in this country, starting with the National Clay Courts Tournament in River Forest, Ill., July 17-23.

George Barnes, president of the USLTA, said the State Department has approved the invitation which includes other tournaments to follow the clay court meet. The invitation to the Russian team includes an appearance in the National Singles Tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y., in September.

Marin Golf Tourney

Results of yesterday's "T and F Tournament" played by women members of the Marin Golf Club:

ABOUT FACE BY N.Y.; NEW STADIUM OKAYED

NEW YORK (AP) — The return of National League baseball to New York City next year seems assured after all.

The State Assembly executed an about-face in Albany yesterday and passed the bill authorizing the city to finance and build an 18-million-dollar ball park in Flushing Meadows, Queens. The park would be leased to the Metropolitan Baseball Club which has been granted a National League franchise effective next year.

The assembly defeated the bill Wednesday, but when it came up for consideration yesterday some assemblymen changed their votes.

NCAA PLAYOFFS

Ohio State Faces Kentucky Assault

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Undefeated Ohio State heads the list of 16 highly-rated schools which begin play in the NCAA regionals today, but the Buckeyes will have to overcome a gang attack by the state of Kentucky if they are to capture their second straight national championship.

Proud possessors of a 29-game winning streak—including 24 this season—and unanimous approval by the United Press International Board of Coaches as the nation's leading collegeb asketball team, the Buckeyes collide with dangerous Louisville in a first-round mid-East Regional game at Louisville tonight.

HOME ADVANTAGE

Louisville had a 20-7 record during the regular campaign, but the Colonels lost only twice while winning 13 on their home court. And should the Buckeyes get past Louisville, they then would have to contend with the winner of tonight's Kentucky-Morehead State match before advancing to the NCAA's semi-final round at Kansas City, Mo., next week.

Ohio State presents as well-balanced a team as any in the country, with star-billing going to All-America Jerry Lucas, while Louisville fields a veteran squad led by 6-5 John Turner.

Kentucky got off to a mediocre start this season and at one stage owned a dim 8-7 mark, but the Wildcats recovered to win 10 of their last 11 games. Under the forceful determination of Coach Adolph Rupp, Kentucky has won the NCAA title four times and always plays best under pressure.

The lineup and sites for the other regional pairings Friday are:

San Rafael League Tryouts Tomorrow

San Rafael National Little League will conduct tryouts tomorrow for boys who did not play on a major team last season, it was announced yesterday.

The tryouts for 9-10-year-olds will be held from 10 a.m. to noon and for 11-12-year-olds from noon to 1 p.m. at Albert Park.

Tomorrow also is the final day of registration. Boys who have not previously signed up must do so tomorrow. Birth certificates are required and a $2.50 donation is asked to help cover expenses.

Holy Cross, battling back from a 10-point deficit midway through the second half, whipped favored Detroit, 86-82, and St. Louis, a nine-point favorite, nipped Miami (Fla.), 58-56, on a layup at the buzzer yesterday to launch the 24th annual NIT in fine style before a crowd of 13,238 at Madison Square Garden.

"I figured if we could hold (Dave) Debusschere to 20 points and keep (John) Morgan from driving off the pivot too much our hot shooting would take care of the rest," was the way Leenig explained his pre-game strategy. And as it turned out, Leenig must rate as a prophet of sorts.

The smaller but more maneuverable Crusaders, 2½ point underdogs, held Debusschere to 18 points and contained Morgan, a 6-6 driver, pretty much the way Leenig expected them to while Jack (The Shot) Foley, George Blaney and Tim Shea took care of the shooting to gain a quarter-final berth against Memphis State.

Bennington, displeased with his team's effort, nevertheless, was willing to forgive and forget, and you couldn't exactly blame him. With the score tied, 56-all, Miami in possession for a final shot and the clock ticking off the final seconds, Don Reid stole the ball from little Dick Hickok, passed to Tom Kieffer under the basket all alone and the St. Louis guard laid it up for the winning points just as the buzzer sounded.

INGO RECEIVES $12,000 TO TIDE HIM OVER

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson will have $12,000 from receipts of Monday night's heavyweight championship fight with Floyd Patterson to use as expense money until his tax case with the U. S. government comes up March 23.

Federal Judge Emett Choate granted Johansson that sum yesterday after the Swedish fighter, through his attorneys, said he was broke. Johansson and asked for $15,000.

The government, which claims Johansson owes more than $1 million in income taxes earned in his last two fights with Patterson, has obtained an injunction tying up Johansson's share of the profits of Monday night's fight.

It is estimated Johansson will gross about $700,000 for the fight at Miami Beach, when he was knocked out in the sixth round.

HELPFUL HINTS—Richard Nave of Nave Lanes takes time out to give some pointers to Mrs. Hazel Reeves of Mill Valley, a faithful member of the adult recreation program of the Marin Society of Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Waiting her turn in background is Mrs. Alice Lehman of Corte Madera. Wheelchair bowling is a weekly feature for the recreation program at Nave Lanes.

TEAMMATES AGAIN — Mr. and Mrs. Odus Folsom of Ignacio used to enjoy bowling together until she developed polio. Now they are able to take part again in the wheelchair program at Nave Lanes. Above Folsom helps his wife at the foul line.

Bowling In Wheelchairs Big Success

Bowling in the conventional manner is difficult enough, but did you ever try it seated in a wheelchair?

That's one of the projects of the adult recreation participants of Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. at Nave Lanes in Ignacio each Tuesday, and the program has been described as a big success.

That program has hit one snag, however—transportation for the participants. Mrs. Gertrude Cherry of San Anselmo, chairman for the recreation program, has asked for assistance in this problem. Anyone interested in providing transportation each Tuesday should contact Mrs. Cherry.

Nave Lanes has provided excellent instruction for the wheelchair bowlers, Mrs. Cherry said. Rich Nave is in charge at the lanes.

ROLLING BOWLERS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If old man par—he's 71—had a voice he'd be squealing with anguish at the Pasadena Golf Club today.

Seldom has the old man taken a beating such as he took in the opening round of the St. Petersburg Open yesterday, and if the lashing continues in the second round of the $20,000 72-hole event today a 36-hole score of 140 will be lucky to survive the cut to the low 60 and ties tonight.

Two players—Jack McGowan and Billy Casper Jr.—shot 63s to lead the field and break the course record by a stroke.

Seventy-eight players, or about half the field, were under par and 93 of the 159 entrants were par or better.

Casper had a six-under-par 29 for the home nine, and got his 63 despite two bogies.

McGowan, 30, assistant pro at Toledo, Ohio, who makes his home at Clearwater, Fla., got his 32-31 with 8 birdies and 10 pars.

That 63 looked like it would stand alone until Casper, the former National Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif., plodded in with his 34-29 late in the afternoon to get a share of the lead.

Five contestants—Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Aaron, Don Fairfield, Gary Player and Frank Wharton—were tied at 66, and 13 were in the 67 bracket. The 68 class was jammed with 19 players.

Trojans, Utes Favored In NCAA Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Utah and Southern California were favored to win second-round NCAA basketball games tonight and produce a Saturday duel between the west's two outstanding big men, Bill (The Hill) McGill and John Rudometkin.

But Coach Jack Garner's high scoring Utah team, 21-6, will have to crack an NCAA jinx and beat a strong Loyola team that whipped it soundly early in the season. They play at 7:30 p.m.

Southern Cal, 21-6, faces darkhorse Arizona State, a speedy bunch of clutch kids primed for an upset, at 9:30 p.m. the winners play Saturday night for a spot in next week's semi-finals at Kansas City.

Loyola, 19-6 and champion of the tough West Coast Athletic Conference, downed Utah 85-64 in the Utes' first game of the season.

OPENING ROUNDS

Utah and Loyola qualified for the second round by winning in their conferences. Southern Cal made it by edging Oregon 81-79 and Arizona State got in by beating Seattle 72-70 here Wednesday night in first round games.

Last season Utah came into the Western Regionals as a favorite and lost to Oregon.

McGill, a 6-9 junior, has a 27.5 scoring average for the Utes who have an 80-point team average. Utah downed defensive minded Colorado State 55-51 in the Skyline Conference playoff.

Loyola is sparked by Ed Bento, a 6-6 junior from Hilo, Hawaii, who scored 429 points during the season and hit about half his field goal attempts.

ALL-AMERICA STARS

Rudometkin, like McGill a second-team UPI All-America, hit his season's average—24 points—for the Trojans against Oregon and appeared fully recovered from a leg muscle injury. Eighteen of those points came in the second half while he had four personal fouls.

"Arizona State is as good a basketball team as Oregon," Coach Forrest Twogood of the fifth-ranked Trojans said. "I hope they won't be as tough."

Russ Tennis Team Invited To U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Lawn Tennis Assn. has invited Russia to send a tennis team to compete in this country, starting with the National Clay Courts Tournament in River Forest, Ill., July 17-23.

George Barnes, president of the USLTA, said the State Department has approved the invitation which includes other tournaments to follow the clay court meet. The invitation to the Russian team includes an appearance in the National Singles Tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y., in September.

ABOUT FACE BY N.Y.; NEW STADIUM OKAYED

NEW YORK (AP) — The return of National League baseball to New York City next year seems assured after all.

The State Assembly executed an about-face in Albany yesterday and passed the bill authorizing the city to finance and build an 18-million-dollar ball park in Flushing Meadows, Queens. The park would be leased to the Metropolitan Baseball Club which has been granted a National League franchise effective next year.

The assembly defeated the bill Wednesday, but when it came up for consideration yesterday some assemblymen changed their votes.

NCAA PLAYOFFS

Ohio State Faces Kentucky Assault

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Undefeated Ohio State heads the list of 16 highly-rated schools which begin play in the NCAA regionals today, but the Buckeyes will have to overcome a gang attack by the state of Kentucky if they are to capture their second straight national championship.

Proud possessors of a 29-game winning streak—including 24 this season—and unanimous approval by the United Press International Board of Coaches as the nation's leading collegeb asketball team, the Buckeyes collide with dangerous Louisville in a first-round mid-East Regional game at Louisville tonight.

HOME ADVANTAGE

Louisville had a 20-7 record during the regular campaign, but the Colonels lost only twice while winning 13 on their home court. And should the Buckeyes get past Louisville, they then would have to contend with the winner of tonight's Kentucky-Morehead State match before advancing to the NCAA's semi-final round at Kansas City, Mo., next week.

Ohio State presents as well-balanced a team as any in the country, with star-billing going to All-America Jerry Lucas, while Louisville fields a veteran squad led by 6-5 John Turner.

Kentucky got off to a mediocre start this season and at one stage owned a dim 8-7 mark, but the Wildcats recovered to win 10 of their last 11 games. Under the forceful determination of Coach Adolph Rupp, Kentucky has won the NCAA title four times and always plays best under pressure.

The lineup and sites for the other regional pairings Friday are:

Tomorrow also is the final day of registration. Boys who have not previously signed up must do so tomorrow. Birth certificates are required and a $2.50 donation is asked to help cover expenses.

Fine Salmon Trolling Of Weekend Followed By Mean, Nasty Weather

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! The fishing trip was over, but the memory lingered on. I refer to the trips after salmon out in the blue Pacific over the last weekend and the resultant followup of mean, nasty and unfishable weather and water on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lucky were they who had arranged a trip on either Saturday or Sunday. Undoubtedly the fastest and finest salmon trolling of the year on those two days. Surprisingly, the fish ran a great deal heavier than is normal at this early in the season.

As I type out today's column, I look out my office window and the sun is shining, hardly a leaf is stirring on the trees and shrubbery. My barometer has remained steady. Fair since noon (Wednesday) and I have a terrific hunch that, despite the Weather Bureau predictions, we are in for a spell of good weather. If so, invite a few friends for a fish dinner on Saturday and buy yourself a seat aboard one of the salmon sportfishing fleet. Imagine you can serve that fish dinner with freshly caught salmon. The wise-guys, en masse, are convinced there will be plenty of lunkers out there waiting for you.

ALL I DARE say about striper striving hither and yon is that it WAS good and will be again. For some reason (I haven't the answer) the striped bass seem to have favored the Marin side of San Pablo Bay for the past two weeks. Oh, sure they caught fish on the other side, but I am convinced there has been a better average per angler on the Marin side. (If you want to argue the point, I'll cite the Fifth Amendment.)

THE FELLOWS and femmes who cast Hotchie Jigs and Black eels into the waters of Lake Berryessa had a pair of field days on Saturday and Sunday. Limits or near limits were the order of the day.

BACK COUNTRY striper striving is in the doldrums, but the horned pout and their ilk are plentiful.

BY THE WAY, for the first time in many moons I had a call from a lady whose hubby had accidentally caught a sturgeon in the China Camp sector. Seems our caller (name withheld by request) had partaken of a few sturgeon steaks 30 days ago but, said she: "This one is different—that is, it is almost the same except that it has a light olive green stripe on each side. The other one didn't. Is there any difference?"

Plenty of difference. The fish she had was a GREEN STURGEON. It is considered by some as unfit for human consumption. Its flesh is dark and it has a strong and, to most people, a disagreeable taste. Also it has a bad odor. It is completely different from the usual WHITE sturgeon.

NOTE: There has been a common belief that the green sturgeon's flesh is poisonous. But that isn't true.

I had to tell my caller these things. I wonder if she cooked it anyhow.

Honey bees carry water as well as honey. Special carriers bring it to the hive, dole it out, seal it in cells or even act as storage tanks themselves until the water is needed.

Sacramento To Host Annual Bowl Contest

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic (NAIA) voted unanimously yesterday to move its annual national championship football game from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Sacramento.

NAIA executive secretary A. O. Duer said the decision was based partially on racial discrimination against Negro athletes in Florida. Equally important in the decision, he added, was the small stadium provided for the game in St. Petersburg.

"Our contract with St. Petersburg contained two provisions," he explained. "One was that a new stadium would be assured by last year and the other that the democratic right of all our members to participate on an equal basis would be assured. These provisions have not been satisfied. However, the officials at St. Petersburg did everything within their power and we regret that it didn't work out as originally hoped."

CAMELLIA BOWL

Duer said that this year's football game would be known as the Camellia Bowl and would be played in Sacramento's Hughes Stadium. It has a capacity of 25,000 persons compared to St. Petersburg's 8,000.

Details for the game were worked out this week by the NAIA's 15-member executive committee and W. W. Woods of Sacramento, chairman of the Camellia Bowl Assn.

Television rights for the game are being worked out, Duer said.

The NAIA game was first played in 1957 at Little Rock, Ark. It has been played at St. Petersburg ever since.

Terra Linda High Defeats Lincoln

Strong relief pitching by Dave Hartley and the batting of Dick Schultze, Paul Meuse and Jerry Daniele powered the Terra Linda High School baseball team to an 11-6 victory over the Lincoln High junior varsity at San Francisco Wednesday.

Hartley came in to relieve after the first inning and pitched two-hit ball the rest of the way. Schultze, Meuse and Daniele each collected two hits.

Rape Of The Delta Regions Continues

By ALFRED MATSON

Despite the seeming concern by people in high places, the rape of the Delta area continues at a merry pace.

State officials have promised investigations and, if such findings so warrant, early stoppage of the denuding program. Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in fact, stated that such data should be available by October.

He might as well stop that investigation right now and save the taxpayers' money because long before that time the levees will be stripped down to the last small sapling.

With all the outcry from the boating public, sportsmen and even many of the bordering farmers, it is difficult to understand how the two governmental agencies involved, State Reclamation Bureau and Army engineers, refuse to deviate from their set program.

A moratorium for a few months certainly would not endanger the levees. They've withstood the floods and high waters since long before the turn of the century and certainly won't collapse overnight.

To the uninitiated, the Delta is a vast region of rich farmland and innumerable sloughs. Many years ago the farmers built levees to protect their lands from flood waters. In time nature covered the bare dikes with a verdant growth of trees and shrubbery.

The sloughs became delightful avenues of restful beauty and afforded ideal conditions in cruising, fishing, hunting and swimming for the vacationer. Down through the years the boating public has availed itself of the Delta in ever-increasing numbers.

But, because the powers that be claim the trees, at least the dead ones with rotted roots, are a troublesome factor in levee maintenance, they have but one solution—strip everything!

We would be remiss in not mentioning the long fight that has been waged by Doug Boswell of San Rafael to save our water vacation land. Of late, and perhaps too late, Doug, of the Pacific Inter-Club Yachting Assn., has had help from other organizations. But the right telephone call to the right party to cease and desist has yet to be made.

By ALFRED MATSON

Despite the seeming concern by people in high places, the rape of the Delta area continues at a merry pace.

State officials have promised investigations and, if such findings so warrant, early stoppage of the denuding program. Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in fact, stated that such data should be available by October.

He might as well stop that investigation right now and save the taxpayers' money because long before that time the levees will be stripped down to the last small sapling.

With all the outcry from the boating public, sportsmen and even many of the bordering farmers, it is difficult to understand how the two governmental agencies involved, State Reclamation Bureau and Army engineers, refuse to deviate from their set program.

A moratorium for a few months certainly would not endanger the levees. They've withstood the floods and high waters since long before the turn of the century and certainly won't collapse overnight.

To the uninitiated, the Delta is a vast region of rich farmland and innumerable sloughs. Many years ago the farmers built levees to protect their lands from flood waters. In time nature covered the bare dikes with a verdant growth of trees and shrubbery.

The solughs became delightful avenues of restful beauty and afforded ideal conditions in cruising, fishing, hunting and swimming for the vacationer. Down through the years the boating public has availed itself of the Delta in ever-increasing numbers.

But, because the powers that be claim the trees, at least the dead ones with rotted roots, are a troublesome factor in levee maintenance, they have but one solution—strip everything!

We would be remiss in not mentioning the long fight that has been waged by Doug Boswell of San Rafael to save our water vacation land. Of late, and perhaps too late, Doug, of the Pacific Inter-Club Yachting Assn., has had help from other organizations. But the right telephone call to the right party to cease and desist has yet to be made.

SAN RAFAEL VOTES APRIL 10

Five-Way Race In Progress For Two Seats On Council

A five-way race has developed in the April 10 San Rafael election for two positions on the city council, each a four-year term.

The two incumbents have filed for re-election. They are being opposed by three other candidates.

LOUIS H. BAAR

Incumbent Louis H. Baar is completing a four-year term on the city council. A native of San Francisco, Baar has lived in Marin County for 38 years. He is in the insurance and real estate business with Maynard Redmond and Associates.

Baar stands on the city's record in the past four years as his platform for the future. He says that in those four years 50 per cent of the city's streets have been resurfaced; two new firehouses and a drill tower have been built; the fourth off-street parking lot was built; the city library was modernized and one quarter of a million dollars was spent on storm drains. All this was accomplished while reducing the tax rate from $1.15 to 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

ORLANDO CONTI

Orlando Conti, 49, of 337 C Street, is owner of a plumbing business. He is a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

"I believe in a progressive administration," Conti stated. "I think that we should have more parking and longer parking. I believe that we should encourage light clean industries in the area."

Conti and his wife, Elizabeth, have three children and three grandchildren.

JOSEPH R. FILIPPO

Joseph R. Filippo, 53, of 215 Mountain View Avenue, a general contractor, has been engaged in building activity in Marin County since 1934.

He has been active in the Fairfax Masonic Lodge, the Royal Arch Masons, Marin Commandry, Elks Lodge, Club Italia of Marin, Associated Home Builders of Marin County, Construction Industries Council of Marin and Marin Hi-12 Club.

Filippo and his wife Constance, have two children, a son Jim, an engineer with Marin Municipal Water District, and a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Endy, and two grandchildren.

MICHAEL McLEAN

Michael McLean, 37, a general contractor, is making his second try for a seat on the city council, having been unsuccessful in his bid in 1959.

A native of Denmark, McLean served in both the Danish and British armies during World War 2. He came to the United States in 1950. He joined the Marin Corps and became a citizen of the United States.

He is well known for his rescue searches with his bloodhounds, for which he has been called to many areas of Northern California. He takes no pay for these searches.

DAVID MENARY JR.

David Menary Jr., 34, former deputy district attorney, has served on the council for a year and one-half, having been appointed to fill the vacancy left by the death of Joseph F. Sauer.

A native of California, Menary attended San Rafael schools, College of Marin and University of San Francisco.

Rescuers Brave Peril Of Rubble To Save Man

CHICAGO (AP)—Rescuers climaxed an inch-by-inch struggle through perilously hanging debris today by plucking an injured man alive and conscious and rubble of a collapsed building.

Hope, however, was abandoned for two other men still entombed under the debris of the building which caved in yesterday on a wrecking crew razing the four-story structure. Fourteen others were injured, five seriously.

Rescuers worked gingerly lest a sudden movement jar a shaky wall nearby or set off a deadly landslide of bricks, wood and steel that would doom the trapped man as well as themselves.

William McCoy, 31, had lain nearly 19 hours in bitter cold before firemen and civilian wrecking engineers, their every move endangered their own safety, freed him from the 18-inch steel I-beam that pinned him.

McCoy, who remained in good spirits throughout his ordeal, was taken by ambulance to the University of Illinois Research Hospital. Doctors said examination disclosed a possible fracture of his left leg, bruises and scrapes on both legs, and frost-bitten feet. There seemed no acute exposure effects on his general condition.

McCoy finally was freed after a second huge crane was brought into play. The two cranes lifted the heavy beam abouth three inches off his body, then a fireman cut through a two-inch steel pipe that still pinned him.

Twenty-eight men were in the building when it buckled inward. The building, on the near Southwest Side, was being razed to make way for a new supermarket.

School Sued By Athlete

A Mill Valley youth, who was on the Tamalpais High School baseball team last year, is suing the high school district for $50,000 for injuries suffered when a baseball hit him on the head a year ago.

Frank A. Brunini, 18, of 338 Shoreline Highway, suffered a depressed skull fracture, according to his mother. He is still under a doctor's care. The suit was filed by the youth's father, Louis F. Brunini.

The complaint alleges that Frank was warming up for a game with St. Mary's High School on March 21 last year when a ball thrown by someone else hit him on the head. The suit alleges the school district was negligent and careless.

City In Good Shape, Say 2 Hopefuls Not Progressive, Declares Third

The two San Rafael City Councilmen running for new terms think that San Rafael is in good condition, while another candidate does not think that the city has a progressive administration.

These opinions were expressed when the three candidates spoke at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Mission Inn yesterday. Two other candidates were absent.

Louis H. Baar, council member now seeking a second term, stated that in his four years as councilman the city has spent approximately $2,250,000 in capital outlay.

This has built new parking lots, resurfaced half of the city's 50 miles of streets, and added two fire stations, a drill tower and aerial truck to the fire department. The city is negotiating for six acres for a new park, Baar said.

"I think that the present city council has done a good job," Baar concluded in asking for reelection.

Orlando Conti, who has run unsuccessfully for mayor and county supervisor, told the Kiwanians that he started the progressive moves in San Rafael. Others took the glory, but they were acting on the things he advocated in his campaign, he declared.

Conti said he advocated off-street parking and four-hour parking to help bring business into downtown San Rafael.

"I believe in making San Rafael business district the expanding hub of business in the area," he said.

"I do not want to curtail new construction and business in the city," said Conti, who is a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

His next project is trailer courts in San Rafael, he said.

David Menary Jr., incumbent seeking his first full term, told the Kiwanians that he was not a politician, nor had he any intention of becoming one. He accepted the appointment to the city council a year and one-half ago when Joseph F. Sauer died.

"I have tried to be independent," Menary said. "I do not believe in serving any special interests."

"The price was $18,000 an acre, and that is a lot of money to spend just for a site," Menary said.

"The city must attract new businesses and industry. It must maintain its business district through more parking and traffic control," Menary concluded.

The candidates were introduced by Thomas Stark, who read a letter from Mayor John F. McInnis expressing his regret at being unable to attend the meeting. McInnis is unopposed for reelection as mayor.

San Rafael is in the best physical and financial condition in its history in the past eight years during his term as mayor, McInnis's letter continued. He pledged his effort toward the continuing expansion of San Rafael.

Also absent were council candidates Joseph R. Filippo and Michael McLean.

It is estimated that South Dakota's Mt. Rushmore Memorial, featuring carvings of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt, will exist for 100,000 years without appreciable change.

THE CONSUL GENERAL OF INDIA Anthony G. Meneses and Mrs. Meneses, who wear the traditional Indian sari, have a very special reason to be so completely delighted with the distinctive haute couture fashion of John Cavin seen here against a Sausalito setting reminiscent to Mr. Meneses of Bombay. For John Cavin Ltd. is Marin's new prestige industry creating couturier fashions from brilliant and elegant Indian fabrics. For the pleasure of the Consul General and his wife Marian Bellamy, at left, shows Cavin's black and gold sari ensemble for after five. Jane Mapes, foreground, is properly "at home" in the designer's hostess coat and tapered silk trousers with matching bodice. A perfect San Francisco town suit reflecting a third type of Cavin fashion is seen on Peggy Donohue. More pictures and a story by Patricia Zinn on this new Marin designer-manufacturer may be found on page 19. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Reminder To Submit Entries For State Fair Essay Contest

Young California home economists are reminded to submit entries soon for the California State Fair and Exposition essay contest for complete dinner menu, table setting and decorations, according to Mrs. Buddie Shrier, chairman of women's activities and art committee.

The competitive event will be held at California's Spring Festival from April 15-23 at the State Fair Grounds in Sacramento. The Festival is sponsored jointly by the State Fair and the Sacramento County Fair.

Entrants must write an essay on a complete menu and table setting for a family of four and four guests based on a specified income bracket. Serving instruction, desired type of crystal, silver, china, linen and table decorations must be included in the essay.

The State Fair will duplicate and exhibit the 10 best table settings with the aid of Sacramento retail merchants. Winners will receive trophies, and entrants will get certificate of participation.

Entry blanks may be secured by writing to California State Fair and Exposition, Exhibit Supervisor, P. O. Box 2036, Sacramento 9, California.

The speaker, a native of San Jose, is one of the founders of the California Horticultural Society, is a past president of the San Francisco Business Men's Garden Club and was program chairman of that organization for 24 years. He is a member of the California Rhododendron Society and of three British Garden Societies. ENTERTAIN OPERA STAR

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Livingston of Mill Valley are entertaining in honor of opera star Nan Merriman at a champagne reception to be given tonight from 5 to 7 p.m. at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

She has been a personal friend of Mrs. Livingston since they met 10 years ago in Paris, when she was appearing in a concert with Mrs. Livingston's first husband, the late concert pianist Maxim Schapiro.

Next month the singer will fulfill this ambition by starring in the Alaska Music Trail's last 1960-61 concert of the series, which Mrs. Livingston has continued to manage since her late husband's death in 1958.

THE CONSUL GENERAL OF INDIA Anthony G. Meneses and Mrs. Meneses, who wear the traditional Indian sari, have a very special reason to be so completely delighted with the distinctive haute couture fashion of John Cavin seen here against a Sausalito setting reminiscent to Mr. Meneses of Bombay. For John Cavin Ltd. is Marin's new prestige industry creating couturier fashions from brilliant and elegant Indian fabrics. For the pleasure of the Consul General and his wife Marian Bellamy, at left, shows Cavin's black and gold sari ensemble for after five. Jane Mapes, foreground, is properly "at home" in the designer's hostess coat and tapered silk trousers with matching bodice. A perfect San Francisco town suit reflecting a third type of Cavin fashion is seen on Peggy Donohue. More pictures and a story by Patricia Zinn on this new Marin designer-manufacturer may be found on page 19. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

'From Arden's Spring Garden' Theme Of Thursday Showing

Freshly picked "From the Arden Spring Garden" and delivered to Fashions With a View from the Ondine on Thursday are the 1961 spring delights of Elizabeth Arden to bloom through spring and summer.

From a fashionable idea planted by Miss Arden months ago with the great fashion houses of New York and Paris, to the finished fashion, each outfit has been created with love and tender care. When it meets Miss Arden's exacting standards of perfection, it is added to the Arden spring collection.

Currently at the height of their blooming season Thursday at the Ondine will be the important Elizabeth Arden "annuals," the stunning new suit success, the town ensemble, country charmers for late day cocktails and dinner delights for after-five.

Perennial favorites that bloom every Arden spring with a fresh new face are the "little" dresses that may be soft and silky, sleeved or sleeveless, cotton or casual, classic or captivating.

Floral bouquets of every hue bloom fashionably in the Arden sprng collection that runs a colorscope from marigold, jonquil and nasturtium, to pink geranium, violet and primrose.

Fashions With a View from the Ondine takes its inspiration for the Thursday luncheon from its special "guest with a viewpoint." The guest will point up the importance of the vital work done by Volunteer Auxiliary to the Youth Guidance Center in San Francisco.

Reservations to enjoy the Elizabeth Arden spring collection may be made by calling the Ondine in Sausalito.

Twenty-five new guilds, representing most areas of Marin, have been organized by Mrs. Metcalfe to assist the Junior Museum of Marin with its activities and fund raising.

Museum supporters at Hamilton Field will also assist with the groups' activities, Mrs. Metcalfe says, although members there will not form a separate guild.

For the afternoon event, spring flowers will be used to decorate the beautiful Kent home, where guests will be greeted by the Mesdames Lorry DiGracia, John B. Willcutt, and William L. Hildeburn Jr., of the Kent Woodlands Guild.

Three members of the Loch Lomond Guild, Mrs. Clyde Stevens, Mrs. William Purdy Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Hulne will be hostesses for the tea. Taking turns at the tea table will be Mrs. G. B. Zimmerman, Mrs. Raymond Watts, and Mrs. Fred Evans of the Country Club Guild.

Assisting with invitations have been the Mesdames George T. White, Tiburon; C. F. Crossley Jr., Greenbrae; Roderick Martinelli, San Rafael; Walter Benson, San Anselmo; and W. E. Radtke of Fairfax.

Dorcas Fetes Members On Birthdays

The Dorcas Society of the Congregational Community Church of Fairfax will hold its next business meeting on Tuesday, March 28.

A birthday luncheon followed the recent meeting. Two special tables were set for members whose birthdays occurred during the past six months. Seated at the two birthday tables were Mesdames A. F. Adams, R. G. Batcheller, C. J. Bergstrom, William A. Bliss, L. J. Condrotte, Louis Dallara, J. W. Darlington, Josephine Degen, Thomas Humphrey, D. B. Johnson, Ernest Kruse, Charles McLain, Thomas Teare, Anita Terkelsen and J. C. Uhte. The tables were decorated with bridal wreath and camellias. Mesdames R. G. Bacheller, J. A. DeLucchi and F. E. Jerow were on the serving committee.

Following luncheon the business meeting was held, conducted by the president, Mrs. Louis Dallara. She appointed on the nominating committee to submit the slate of officers for the coming year: Mesdames W. J. Bennis, A. P. Kilpatrick and Robert Roy.

The club is a branch of the Trans-Atlantic Brides and Parents Association. All British wives who are dependents of active or retired armed forces personnel living in the area who wish to become members or obtain further information should contact Mrs. Frost in Novato.

'From Arden's Spring Garden' Theme Of Thursday Showing

Freshly picked "From the Arden Spring Garden" and delivered to Fashions With a View from the Ondine on Thursday are the 1961 spring delights of Elizabeth Arden to bloom through spring and summer.

From a fashionable idea planted by Miss Arden months ago with the great fashion houses of New York and Paris, to the finished fashion, each outfit has been created with love and tender care. When it meets Miss Arden's exacting standards of perfection, it is added to the Arden spring collection.

Currently at the height of their blooming season Thursday at the Ondine will be the important Elizabeth Arden "annuals," the stunning new suit success, the town ensemble, country charmers for late day cocktails and dinner delights for after-five.

Perennial favorites that bloom every Arden spring with a fresh new face are the "little" dresses that may be soft and silky, sleeved or sleeveless, cotton or casual, classic or captivating.

Floral bouquets of every hue bloom fashionably in the Arden sprng collection that runs a colorscope from marigold, jonquil and nasturtium, to pink geranium, violet and primrose.

Fashions With a View from the Ondine takes its inspiration for the Thursday luncheon from its special "guest with a viewpoint." The guest will point up the importance of the vital work done by Volunteer Auxiliary to the Youth Guidance Center in San Francisco.

YLI District Meeting Sunday

Plans for the Young Ladies Institute district meeting to be held on Sunday, March 19, in Sausalito were discussed at the recent meeting of Lagan Institute YLI of San Rafael. Miss Marion Grady will be assistant marshal at the district meeting and Miss Mildred Young, assistant recording secretary.

Lagan's next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mary McCurdy, 609 E Street, San Rafael on Tuesday, March 21. The advent of spring will be observed and plans made for a post-Easter party.

Bares Knees

The newest in beach wear bares the knees. Not for dunking but just for relaxing and sunning are the new length skirt or culottes which end just above the kneecap.

FROM AN IDEA in the designer's mind to an exciting fashion original many steps and much inspiration are necessary. Here, John Cavin chooses the right Indian fabric for the magnificent ball gown in his sketch.

THE FIT and finish of every John Cavin design is checked and double checked by Mrs. Erna Falk who fulfills Cavin's high standards of ability in sewing haute couture designs.

Dress Designer Cavin Brings New Prestige Industry To Marin

By PATRICIA ZINN

Marin has a fascinating and fashionable new prestige industry—John Calvin Ltd. of Sausalito.

It's all the result of a romance between the designer John Cavin and this "beautiful county" when he came to Marin to present his 1960 fall collection last September at Rickey's Fashion Focus Luncheon honoring the Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Cavin, whose distinctive high fashion suits, dresses at home and cocktail creations, serve and reach such specialty shops as Nelly Gaffney of San Francisco and Marie LaValle of Dallas, was so impressed by the warmth of his Marin welcome and the enthusiasm they displayed for his collection in his several Bay Area showings that he decided to take a bold step and relocate his entire operation.

Since his arrival in mid-winter, Cavin has been busy at his showroom in Sausalito's Industrial Center Building hiring seamstresses and pattern cutters in order to ready samples for his spring and summer collection. Samples are the all-important to haute couture designers. Samples may spell success or failure of a collection. The finished sample may have cost thousands of dollars before it completely pleases the designer and is ready for manufacture.

Lithe, lovely and very elegant are Cavin's creations. Emphasis is on the exquisite beauty of the opulent imported fabrics from the Far East in which he specializes; the genius treatment of the designer and his pure, simple, uncluttered line. All this in addition to color which may be subtly underplayed on the one hand and bold and bright on the other.

For this designer the inside of a garment is as important as the outside. He is, therefore, dedicated to his clientele of better dressed women who demand this high degree of craftmanship.

John Cavin has always "loved to work with my hands" since his childhood days in Northern Idaho where he was quite adept at weaving on hand looms. This particular bent progressed through education as he attended Columbia University Teacher's College as a music major. As a student he worked on numerous musical comedies and was to star in first run musicals as a singer. However, he found his attention focused not so much on the music as the costume design. The summer stock circuit in New Hampshire, Maine, New Jersey and upstate New York provided the opportunity for a dry run in the field of design.

He returned to New York City after this experience as costume designer on Broadway. John Cavin felt he was now ready to make a career of dress designing and wanted to gain a better knowledge of materials. Thus he accepted a position as a traveling representative for a large international fabric house. It was in this role that he became associated with the textured fabrics of the Far East in which he today specializes.

John Cavin opened his salon in selective and competitive Beverly Hills. Successful and highly thought of in Southern California's fashion field for his talent and integrity, the young designer had but to find Marin to continue dress manufacturing on a larger scale as well as custom fashions made-to-order for particular clients.

After moving his wife, son and daughter to their new home in Greenbrae and completing work on his showroom, John Cavin will make another trip to India to further develop the establishment of a small factory in West Bengal which is east of Calcutta. He has found both the people and the government openly enthusiastic and here at home in San Francisco the Consul General of India Anthony G. Meneses has more than lent his wholehearted support.

The future for John Cavin is as bright as the beautiful Indian fabrics he imports. To Marin he brings a creative and exciting new industry that will grow with the county.

Faxfairs Salad Lunch

Dominican Convent Will See Show 'Arabian Nights'

The lower school and high school of the Dominican Convent will be entertained today by The Berkeley Puppeteers' lavish production of "Arabian Nights," a story based upon one of the well known "Tales of 1001 Nights" which have intrigued adults and children for generations. All costuming and scenery capture the exotic and intricate flavor of the Oriental setting in which the tale is placed.

The authenticity and originality for which The Puppeteers are noted is accomplished by designing and handcarving all the puppets, thereby maintaining the ancient, traditional art of puppetry.

Saturday Car Wash

The girls of Phi Gamma Nu will have car wash day tomorrow at Smilin' Ed Woods service station at Lincoln Avenue and Second Street, San Rafael. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The girls promise an excellent job and said both the interior as well as the exterior will be cleaned.

Artists Plan Open House On Sunday

An open house will be held Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Dick Ford Gallery in Mill Valley, where Mill Valley artist Farwell Taylor is having a one-man show of his "Paintings Done To Music."

One was painted while Charlie Mingus, world renowned bass fiddle player, was visiting the Taylors. He composed "Farwell's Mill Valley" one day while wandering along the creek and included it in his album "Mingus' Dynasty." Taylor's picture was inspired by this music.

On display in the patio around the gallery will be one picture by each of the other 10 artists who make up the group regularly exhibiting at the gallery, which is located at 169 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Take A First Hand Look At What Marin's Youth Doing

Adults who are concerned about what they read of the younger generation should take a little time out either tonight or tomorrow and take a look for themselves.

The best way to find out about something is first hand. It is not possible to see everything that Marin's youths are doing today. But there is a way you can look into one phase of their activities.

Some four score students, seventh and eighth graders and in high school, are exhibiting what they are doing in the physical and biological sciences.

The displays will astound you. Some of the things you will see developed by these youngsters weren't even known when you were taking physics or general science "in the good old days." Yet these kids have demonstrations so advanced as to be truly experimental in nature.

Some of us sometimes deplore the schools situation these days. Things weren't the same when we went to school!

Certainly they weren't the same. Think of all the things that the youth of today has to learn of which we didn't even dream.

It's easy to recall when learned scientists argued that it was impossible to split the atom. Television was a vision of the future. Moon rockets were strictly for science fiction. Jet airplanes were unthinkable.

We did lots of talking, but had no opportunity to conduct experiments of the scope and accuracy that Marin youth are exhibiting. They have branched into every field from nutrition to advanced physics.

Go have a look for yourself. It's worthwhile.

Faces Of Spring

Pansies are lovers of the cool, damp days of the early spring season. Once the hot afternoons begin, they grow tiny blossoms on long stringy stems and the plants usually turn sickly.

Purples, yellows, reds, blacks, rich browns—all are at their best during Marin's lovely, lingering spring. Study and enjoy them. Pansies are one of our most unusual and interesting flowers—yet they are also one of our most common notices of the vernal season in our gardens.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HELPS VICTIM—IT'S HIS SON

An emergency call brought an ambulance screaming through Long Beach, California, to the scene of an accident. The driver knew the neighborhood well. It was where he lived.

Braking his vehicle to a halt, he jumped out to administer first aid to an injured 6-year-old boy. The driver of the accident car had covered the lad's face with his jacket, but the youngster's unruly blond hair was strikingly visible.

"My God," the ambulance driver gasped as he took a closer look. "It's my own son."

Then he saw his wife and three other children standing around the boy. His skull was fractured but he was expected to survive.

Hardly ever does it happen that the person we help unawares turns out to be a close relative. But, in another way, everyone to whom we extend a hand of kindness is our brother. If you want to be a true son of your heavenly Father, do all you can for His other sons.

(Matthew 23:8)

Let me see You, O Lord, in all the members of the human family who look to me for assistance.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dear homefolks:

Guess I am just too much of an old country cowpoke to take it all in in one day. Maybe two.

You never saw the likes. Well I just got here. The train was nice and all that but, doggone it, my eyes near popped out.

Thought I had seen everything there was and then I found out I had not even got out of the Grand Central Station yet. Ha ha. A good joke on me, eh?

Well, you tell my old pardner, agent Skinner, back there at Hoecake Corners, he ought to have a depot like this one. Right in there they sell everything you can think of.

And these here saloons. Shucks, a cowboy could blow his whole month's pay on one night's supply of redeye. What's more, hardly nobody stands up at the bar to drink. They nearly all sit down.

My goodness gracious but this place is full of horseless carriages. They are a-going in all directions all at the same time. A fellow can get run over just about any old time.

One thing you can say. The lady folks here have lots of nice stores to go shopping into. But still somehow I get the notion maybe that the ladies back home are better off with just the Emporium. They keep going around from store to store so much they can't make up their minds.

I KIND OF think maybe it is the dogs that get along the best in this place, in some ways. I wish some of the old pot hounds I know could see this. Barber shops for dogs. Honest to gosh, I'm not kidding. Special people to take them walking. They sleep in beds. They actually have clothes and shoes to wear when they go out of doors.

They have a kind of a game they play here a lot I judge, but I don't know as I get the hang of it exactly. It is called playing the stock market.

BEST I CAN tell, this is not a stock market with stock like we have back there at Hoecake except they do talk about bulls and bears. I can understand how they might sell bulls but why would any one want to buy bears? If I can learn I will write you about this.

Your friend Luke.

Take A First Hand Look At What Marin's Youth Doing

Adults who are concerned about what they read of the younger generation should take a little time out either tonight or tomorrow and take a look for themselves.

The best way to find out about something is first hand. It is not possible to see everything that Marin's youths are doing today. But there is a way you can look into one phase of their activities.

We refer to the countywide science fair, now going on in the gymnasium of College of Marin.

Some four score students, seventh and eighth graders and in high school, are exhibiting what they are doing in the physical and biological sciences.

The displays will astound you. Some of the things you will see developed by these youngsters weren't even known when you were taking physics or general science "in the good old days." Yet these kids have demonstrations so advanced as to be truly experimental in nature.

Some of us sometimes deplore the schools situation these days. Things weren't the same when we went to school!

Certainly they weren't the same. Think of all the things that the youth of today has to learn of which we didn't even dream.

It's easy to recall when learned scientists argued that it was impossible to split the atom. Television was a vision of the future. Moon rockets were strictly for science fiction. Jet airplanes were unthinkable.

We can recall heated sessions on a theory that gravity is not a pull from within, but pressure from without.

We did lots of talking, but had no opportunity to conduct experiments of the scope and accuracy that Marin youth are exhibiting. They have branched into every field from nutrition to advanced physics.

Go have a look for yourself. It's worthwhile.

Faces Of Spring

Pansies are lovers of the cool, damp days of the early spring season. Once the hot afternoons begin, they grow tiny blossoms on long stringy stems and the plants usually turn sickly.

But these cool spring days the pansies are happy and contented. Their thoughtful little faces are broad and smiling.

Purples, yellows, reds, blacks, rich browns—all are at their best during Marin's lovely, lingering spring. Study and enjoy them. Pansies are one of our most unusual and interesting flowers—yet they are also one of our most common notices of the vernal season in our gardens.

HELPS VICTIM—IT'S HIS SON

An emergency call brought an ambulance screaming through Long Beach, California, to the scene of an accident. The driver knew the neighborhood well. It was where he lived.

Braking his vehicle to a halt, he jumped out to administer first aid to an injured 6-year-old boy. The driver of the accident car had covered the lad's face with his jacket, but the youngster's unruly blond hair was strikingly visible.

"My God," the ambulance driver gasped as he took a closer look. "It's my own son."

Then he saw his wife and three other children standing around the boy. His skull was fractured but he was expected to survive.

Hardly ever does it happen that the person we help unawares turns out to be a close relative. But, in another way, everyone to whom we extend a hand of kindness is our brother. If you want to be a true son of your heavenly Father, do all you can for His other sons.

"For one is your Master, and all you are brethren."

Too Old To Work, Why Pay Taxes?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Through the media of TV, radio and newspaper articles, private industry is urged to hire the senior citizen and benefit by his experience.

Our illustrious governor exhorts their great occupational value, but, why is it such stringent requirements are placed on so many civil service positions with the accompanying statement, "I am sorry, but, we are not hiring over the age of 35."

A senior citizen of 50 years was heard to comment in the local state employment office, as he was standing in lane for his weekly pittance, "By golly, if we are not good enough to work for the government, we should not have to pay taxes and go on relief."

Social Security One Half Charity

Independent-Journal:

It never ceases to amaze me that the human mind is capable of such gymnastics as exhibited by Mr. William Erdman's comments on Dr. Rubinstein's letter about medical care for the aged.

According to Mr. Erdman, "social security isn't charity in any sense of the word." Since every wage earner pays only one-half of the premiums towards the social security "insurance" and the employer contributes the other half, it would seem that social security is at least one-half charity.

Perhaps Mr. Erdman feels that because the employer is legally required to contribute to social security, no charity is involved. If he believes this, then I hasten to agree, but I would want him to know that such a belief puts him in jeopardy of being considered a political dinosaur, an individual who believes that coerced contribution is merely legalized extortion applied to the employers.

We can take solace in the hope that perhaps a million years from now some political scientist will unearth our fossilized remains in wonder.

Corrections On A Statement

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A little knowledge is sometimes worse than none. Since I am not a member of the "Marin Council for Civic Affairs," perhaps Mrs. Randolph will accept a few corrections of her recent statements.

The need and the location of the Civic Cinter was the result of a comprehensive study of the County need. The cost of the land would have been approximately half had the original option been exercised. This was the result of the action of one of our present Board of Supervisors. The same tactics have delayed doing anything regarding the $300,000 grant for dredging the Sausalito Canal to assist Mill Valley getting a yacht harbor. The cost of the land will be greatly reduced by the State's use of pari-mutual funds for construction of a Fair Grounds.

The cost of $23.13 a square foot is the usual cost of any public building. The courthouse annex cost this much a square foot several years ago when building costs were much lower. At the present time, the County is spending almost $60,000 a year on 13 offices scattered around San Rafael.

It is hardly conceivable that there could be much greater economy in county government when county taxes have been reduced twice in the last three years and there is no outstanding bonded indebtedness.

The first major action of the present Board of Supervisors cost the county several thousand dollars. Any architect could have looked at the blue prints and determined that a change-over to a hospital would be practically impossible as a hospital is a type of building that requires special size halls, elevators and doors. Perhaps this is the type of fumbling economy that should be supported.

The dinner given at the Meadow Club was sponsored by a group of Mrs. Schultz' friends. There were very few members of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs in attendance. Public officials are judged on their record, and Mrs. Vera Schultz does not need to have her record whitewashed. Marin City will stand as a monument to her effort in Washington when the redevelopment seemd to be lost. She was the first woman elected to the State Supervisors Board. She was the motivating force that gave us a County Administrator five years after such an official was recommended by the Kroeger study of our county government. The administrator, by better management, brought us two tax reductions in the last three years. That dinner was for the purpose of expressing approval of accomplishments achieved.

A woman star of a new musical smash, assured that a three or four year run in New York was in the bag, leased a swank duplex apartment on Sutton Place, and had a complete redecorating job done on it. To give the painter added incentive, the star slipped him a pair of tickets in the third row center—seats that were practically unobtainable even from speculators.

The first of the following month the star was staggered by this item in her bill from the painter: "Wednesday night: four hours' overtime watching customer sing and dance: $36."

Firemen answered a call from a lingerie shop, but found everything under control by the time they got there. The official report read, "Falsie alarm."

Two Belvedere Checks Bounced, And Incorporation Studies Faltered

A comedy of errors which developed when the city of Belvedere's two checks, each in the amount of $125, were bounced back to city manager Britton Rey by the incorporation-annexation study firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger, has been solved to everyone's satisfaction.

Each check is now deposited to its correct account with the firm, which is studying both incorporation of the peninsula and annexation of a portion to Belvedere.

But for awhile, each side thought the other wasn't going to receive any money. And it was reported thusly, semi-gleefully, to each group!

Further checking by yours truly, who heard the conflicting reports separately, revealed that BOTH checks were bounced back. Not because the City of Belvedere's checks are bouncing these days, but because the city council had attached the string to each check that it was to be returned if the total monies for each study were not collected.

And the research consultant firm did not feel it was in the business of collecting debts . . . so back went the checks! We are happy to say that now all is well.

While on the subject now nearest and dearest to Tiburon peninsula residents' hearts, we must quote the lead paragraph from the Tiburon Property Owners' Association membership letter, penned by newly-elected President Fred C. Hannahs:

"Every indication points to the fact that 1961 will be an active year for your association. The TPOA has seldom avoided controversy in the past and the current year will apparently be no exception."

Hannahs spearheaded the association fight two years ago to enlighten district residents on the activities of the Tiburon Fire Protection District, which operated at that time with a three-man commission, and consistently failed to notify the press of its regular and irregular meetings.

Hannahs' letter emphasizes that the association has taken no stand on either incorporation or annexation, though it voted to underwrite approximately 25 per cent of the cost of the incorporation study.

We are willing to bet that once the feasibility studies are out, however, that the association will come out fighting for one or the other!

We think that Cove Players member Joseph Thompson has the answer to the annoying problem of introducing each new guest to a group of assembled chatting people at a party.

Eliminating the tedious method of individual introductions, he uses his loudspeaker to announce each new arrival over the babble of voices. It works too!

We think Belvedere's Mrs. Robert Bastian has an excellent suggestion for providing free recreational entertainment for the city's residents, young and old.

It is "to encase the proposed city sewage treatment plant in plastic and let everyone watch it work."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Kennedy Seems Anxious To Be Squarely In The Political Center

WASHINGTON—It is too soon to conclude that the Kennedy administration will continue to be as moderate and as traditional as it is today, but on the basis of the President's words and deeds thus far, it is accurate to report:

That the Kennedy administration is less reformist than FDR, less partisan — but not less political — than Harry Truman, and in degree somewhat less conservative than Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The new administration is less conservative than the Eisenhower administration because it is more willing to use the power and resources of the federal government to achieve social and economic goals.

OBVIOUSLY THE END result may greatly diverge from this description. Unforeseeable events could alter its course. But the hallmark of the Kennedy presidency after several weeks in office is one of caution and prudence.

It is proposing no radical experimenting with the economy as did FDR. It is not petty or petulant in small things as HST. The Kennedy administration is not tampering with the main lines of foreign policy pursued by President Eisenhower.

It is clear that John F. Kennedy wants a better and more productive America in public services and in the private economy, but he is no passionate doctrinaire reformer intent upon making over the United States.

EVEN IN DEALING with the recession, the Kennedy administration is not significantly diverging in principle from Eisenhower's approach in 1958. The difference is largely one of diagnosis, not remedy. Kennedy and his advisers diagnose the recession to be more acute, more serious than did Eisenhower and his advisers. Kennedy's more pessimistic estimate may prove to be right.

The most significant difference between the reformist era of the New Deal and the let's-make things better era of J.F.K. is the built-in hostility to business in the Roosevelt administration and the built-in cordiality to business in the Kennedy administration.

It is noteworthy that President Kennedy's first public speech after his State of the Union address was delivered to the Industrial Conference Board. For years, F.D.R. would not speak to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Kennedy said:

"Far from being natural enemies, government and business are natural allies . . . We know that your success and ours are intertwined — that you have facts and know-how we need. Whatever past differences may have existed, we seek the spirit of a full-fledged alliance . . . We will not discriminate for or against any segment of our society or against any segment of the business community . . . We are not opposed to business."

THIS IS NOT the credo of a reformist administration. And Kennedy is giving substance to this credo by advocating tax incentives to carry through plant modernization to enable the economy to produce more efficiently in the world market. Such tax incentives were not forthcoming during the Eisenhower administration.

THEATER ROUNDUP

Guide To Weekend's Marin Movie Fare

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

Every March, it seems, some 20,000 students from Northwest and Midwest colleges pile into anything resembling a car and head for Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they chase each other until exhaustion and the new semester sets in.

They swill beer, soak up the sun, sleep 12 to a room or two to a car trunk.

The antics of these young people are depicted in a new comedy - melodrama titled "Where the Boys Are" (color, wide screen), which opens Sunday on the San Rafael screen.

The leading girls are Dolores Hart, Paula Prentiss and Yvette Mimieux. The leading boys are George Hamilton, Jim Hutton and (for laughs) Frank Gorshin. Chill Wills plays a tolerant police chief.

This is a film filled with new faces. Miss Prentiss is certainly the most striking of the lot, an obvious bet for future stardom.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Please Don't Eat the Daisies," (CinemaScope and color) is a domestic comedy based rather loosely on Jean Kerr's best-seller.

It's about a Broadway critic (David Niven), his wife (Doris Day), their four children, a nitwit mother-in-law (Spring Byington), their domestic (Patsy Kelly) and a neurotic dog who needs a tranquilizer every time he sees a cat.

LARK THEATER

Archie Rice is a vulgar, cheap performer in a third rate English music hall. He is larcenous, unfaithful and, again, vulgar. He is also part of playwright John Osborne's version of England: an old, ramshackle music hall where people without talent hold the stage while a stupefied public watches mindlessly.

This is the basis for "The Entertained," brought to brilliant life on the Larkspur sreen by Sir Laurence Oliver as Archie, Brenda de Bazic as his long-suffering wife and Joan Plowright (the next Mrs. Olivier) as his daughter.

The theme certainly isn't cheering, but the performances are something to cheer about. Olivier's Archie Rice is perfection as he leers, tells dirty jokes and when they fail, falls back on a patriotic song and nude tableaux.

Note: Olivier was nominated for an Oscar as "best actor" on the basis of his performance.

MOTOR MOVIES

Based on a recent bestseller, it's set on Chicago's West Madison Avenue, which is about as low down as you can get. And it tells how a boy's mother, a derelict judge, a legless newsboy, a prostitute, a singer in a gin mill become the self-appointed guardians of young Nick Romano (James Darren).

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Grass is Greener" (color) stars Cary Grant, Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum and Jean Simmons. It opens Sunday in Mill Valley.

This comedy tells about a sedate British earl (Grant) who, because of impoverishment, has been forced to open his mansion to tourists.

Along comes a rich American oilman (Mitchum) to see the house. He wanders into the roped-off living room, casts a hungry eye on milady (Miss Kerr) and wants her for his very own.

She's intrigued enough to take off for London with him. Cary, still in love, announces that adultery is not sufficient grounds for divorce. He wants her back.

And get her back he does, with the help of Miss Simmons, a young lady of high fashion and low morals.

NOVATO THEATER

Elizabeth Taylor revels in liquor and sex in her most recent movie, "Butterfield 8," which is based on John O'Hara's story about a mixed-up beauty.

It opens Sunday.

But then she meets Laurence Harvey, a handsome lout who married wealth (Dina Merrill) and couldn't handle it. With him, she decided, she's capable of real love.

Theirs is a stormy romance which ends with a deadly decision on her part to flee from both Harvey and her past.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Frank Sinatra stars as Danny Ocean, a war veteran. And what do war vets and their pals do when they get together? Well in this comedy-melodrama, they plot the holdup of five casinos—all at once.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

The best thing about the film version of Cole Porter's "Can-Can" can be summed up very briefly: Shirley MacLaine.

Maurice Chevalier, Frank Sinatra and Louis Jourdan are around, but the vivacious Miss MacLaine is the one to watch in this Technicolor musical, which has been held over on the Hub screen.

The plot is not intended to be memorable; rather it serves as an excuse for connecting brilliant flashes of dance. But for the record, Shirley plays the owner and chief performer in a Paris cabaret which specializes in the can-can dance.

Union Growth Lags

CAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's labor union membership is not growing as fast as the working population, according to the State Department of Industrial Relations. The department said that union membership grew less than 1 per cent from mid-1959 to mid-1960. During the same period the non-farm employment force rose nearly 3 per cent.

Two thousand ancient Roman cisterns in Libya have been rebuilt under a Libyan-American program to help provide water for the farmers of the arid North African country.

It's about a Broadway critic (David Niven), his wife (Doris Day), their four children, a nitwit mother-in-law (Spring Byington), their domestic (Patsy Kelly) and a neurotic dog who needs a tranquilizer every time he sees a cat.

The frothy plot details their trials when they move from the city, rather suddenly, to a dilapidated old house in the suburbs.

LARK THEATER

Archie Rice is a vulgar, cheap performer in a third rate English music hall. He is larcenous, unfaithful and, again, vulgar. He is also part of playwright John Osborne's version of England: an old, ramshackle music hall where people without talent hold the stage while a stupefied public watches mindlessly.

This is the basis for "The Entertained," brought to brilliant life on the Larkspur sreen by Sir Laurence Oliver as Archie, Brenda de Bazic as his long-suffering wife and Joan Plowright (the next Mrs. Olivier) as his daughter.

The theme certainly isn't cheering, but the performances are something to cheer about. Olivier's Archie Rice is perfection as he leers, tells dirty jokes and when they fail, falls back on a patriotic song and nude tableaux.

Note: Olivier was nominated for an Oscar as "best actor" on the basis of his performance.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Let No Man Write My Epitaph" is a highly dramatic and effective exploration of the lower depths of our society.

Based on a recent bestseller, it's set on Chicago's West Madison Avenue, which is about as low down as you can get. And it tells how a boy's mother, a derelict judge, a legless newsboy, a prostitute, a singer in a gin mill become the self-appointed guardians of young Nick Romano (James Darren).

NOVATO THEATER

Elizabeth Taylor revels in liquor and sex in her most recent movie, "Butterfield 8," which is based on John O'Hara's story about a mixed-up beauty.

It opens Sunday.

But then she meets Laurence Harvey, a handsome lout who married wealth (Dina Merrill) and couldn't handle it. With him, she decided, she's capable of real love.

Theirs is a stormy romance which ends with a deadly decision on her part to flee from both Harvey and her past.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Frank Sinatra stars as Danny Ocean, a war veteran. And what do war vets and their pals do when they get together? Well in this comedy-melodrama, they plot the holdup of five casinos—all at once.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

The best thing about the film version of Cole Porter's "Can-Can" can be summed up very briefly: Shirley MacLaine.

Maurice Chevalier, Frank Sinatra and Louis Jourdan are around, but the vivacious Miss MacLaine is the one to watch in this Technicolor musical, which has been held over on the Hub screen.

The plot is not intended to be memorable; rather it serves as an excuse for connecting brilliant flashes of dance. But for the record, Shirley plays the owner and chief performer in a Paris cabaret which specializes in the can-can dance.

Union Growth Lags

CAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's labor union membership is not growing as fast as the working population, according to the State Department of Industrial Relations. The department said that union membership grew less than 1 per cent from mid-1959 to mid-1960. During the same period the non-farm employment force rose nearly 3 per cent.

Two thousand ancient Roman cisterns in Libya have been rebuilt under a Libyan-American program to help provide water for the farmers of the arid North African country.

'56 Ford $895
Here's a really clean little 9-passenger Country Sedan. 4-Dr. all-metal wagon in light green and white with spotless matching vinyl interior. Don't laugh now—but we took this in from local preacher. Not a bump or ding on the car. V8 engine with Fordomatic, radio and heater.

'55 Chevrolet $845
A 4-Dr. Bel Air wagon with only 40,000 miles. Power steering, power brakes, Power Glide, radio, heater and ww tires. Fire engine red and white with matching red-white leather interior. One-owner car that we took in from Ross family on new '61 Buick wagon.

'51 Buick $250
Here's a rare car on the market —an older wagon with wood trim that's in top shape. We sold this wagon new in 1951 to its only owner. We've refinished the wood on it three or four times during the life of the car. This car is amazingly clean considering it's a 1951 car. Dynaflow, radio and heater. Full leather trim is clean enough for the most discriminating family.

'50 Chevrolet $195

KTIM Schedules Series On I-J Staff Members

"It Takes People" will be the title of a series of 10 broadcasts on radio station KTIM beginning Monday at 6 p.m. The people will be members of the Independent-Journal staff, and the programs will explore their role in producing the newspaper.

KTIM news editor Karl Barron has recorded interviews with key I-J personnel in various departments to bring the listeners a clearer picture of the behind-the-scenes functions in a newspaper.

Mill Valley Plans Floral Displays

Forty wooden wishing wells, filled with flowers, will be set out on sidewalks of Mill Valley March 25 by the Chamber of Commerce to deck the city in Easter color.

Wells will be placed in the Locust area on Miller Avenue, in the Lytton Square area on Throckmorton Avenue and on East Blithedale Avenue, according to Lawrence A. Mayer and Normand B. Black, in charge.

Each well is to have four plants in it, including hydrangeas and roses. Easter lilies will be placed in the center of Lytton Square. Wells are to remain through Easter Sunday, April 2.

Chamber secretary Granville L. Beedle said planter boxes may also be placed for those merchants desiring them. Plants are to be watered daily by two girls dressed in rabbit suits, Beedle said.

Opera Group To Perform At College

The University of California Opera Workshop will present a program entitled "Opera Highlights" as the second offering in the College of Marin Concert and Lecture Series at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Olney Hall.

Admission will be free.

The performance, which will feature seven singers and two pianists, will include scenes from six operas, sung in English and other languages. They include "Don Giovanni," "Die Fledermaus" and "The Consul" in English, "La Boheme" and "Aida" in Italian and "Carmen" in French. As an additional feature, the group will do the complete one-act comedy, "The Telephone," in English.

Because of the difficulty of handling and transporting equipment for such a brief appearance, costumes and props will be held to a minimum.

Director of the workshop is Peggy Donovan, member of the department of music at University of California, who has been working with the group since its formation last year.

Performers will include Gretta Hardin, soprano; Shatleigh Howell, baritone; Margaret Paradez, mezzo soprano; Emma Moss, soprano; Ruth Morrison, soprano; Patrick Daugherty, tenor; and Georgia Warden, soprano. Howell is a member of the San Francisco Opera Company's opera bank. Miss Warden was one of the finalists in the recent Metropolitan Opera Company auditions.

Enters Low Bid

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— The State Division of Highways has opened a low bid of $112,673 from Charles L. Harney, Inc., San Francisco, for extending a culvert at Gallinas Creek on Highway 101 at the north city limits of San Rafael.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Regulations On Claiming Dependency Exemptions

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

You can claim the dependency exemption for someone where you have contributed as little as 10 per cent of the cost of support, if you can qualify as follows:

Peter J. Wikel

Over half of the support of the dependent will be treated as received from you if:

1. No one person contributed over half of the support.
2. Over half of the support was received from persons who, but for the fact they did not contribute over half of such support, would have been entitled to claim the dependent for 1960.
3. You contributed over 10 per cent of such support.
4. Each person besides yourself who contributed over 10 per cent of the support files a written declaration that they will not claim the dependent for 1960.

You file such declarations by having each party who contributed to the support, except the one who is going to claim the credit, sign for 2120, mutiple support agreement, and the one who is claiming the exemption then attaches these forms 2120 to his tax return when he files it.

Prior to 1954 the dependency credit could not be claimed by anyone. Now you can take turns, or one claim it every year. Yau still cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

Tomales Bay Students To Visit Sacramento

Twenty-two eighth grade students from Tomales Bay Union School District will take a day's trip to Sacramento April 7.

Students will travel by chartered bus to see Sutter's Fort and the state legislature in session. It is the first such trip carried out by the school district and may become a yearly event.

The cries made by bats to direct them in flight vibrate at 50,000 cycles per second, far above the range of the human ear.

KTIM Schedules Series On I-J Staff Members

"It Takes People" will be the title of a series of 10 broadcasts on radio station KTIM beginning Monday at 6 p.m. The people will be members of the Independent-Journal staff, and the programs will explore their role in producing the newspaper.

KTIM news editor Karl Barron has recorded interviews with key I-J personnel in various departments to bring the listeners a clearer picture of the behind-the-scenes functions in a newspaper.

Mill Valley Plans Floral Displays

Forty wooden wishing wells, filled with flowers, will be set out on sidewalks of Mill Valley March 25 by the Chamber of Commerce to deck the city in Easter color.

Wells will be placed in the Locust area on Miller Avenue, in the Lytton Square area on Throckmorton Avenue and on East Blithedale Avenue, according to Lawrence A. Mayer and Normand B. Black, in charge.

Each well is to have four plants in it, including hydrangeas and roses. Easter lilies will be placed in the center of Lytton Square. Wells are to remain through Easter Sunday, April 2.

Chamber secretary Granville L. Beedle said planter boxes may also be placed for those merchants desiring them. Plants are to be watered daily by two girls dressed in rabbit suits, Beedle said.

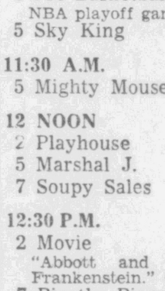
INCOME TAX FACTS

Regulations On Claiming Dependency Exemptions

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

You can claim the dependency exemption for someone where you have contributed as little as 10 per cent of the cost of support, if you can qualify as follows:



Peter J. Wikel

Over half of the support of the dependent will be treated as received from you if:

1. No one person contributed over half of the support.

2. Over half of the support was received from persons who, but for the fact they did not contribute over half of such support, would have been entitled to claim the dependent for 1960.

3. You contributed over 10 per cent of such support.

4. Each person besides yourself who contributed over 10 per cent of the support files a written declaration that they will not claim the dependent for 1960.

You file such declarations by having each party who contributed to the support, except the one who is going to claim the credit, sign for 2120, mutiple support agreement, and the one who is claiming the exemption then attaches these forms 2120 to his tax return when he files it.

Prior to 1954 the dependency credit could not be claimed by anyone. Now you can take turns, or one claim it every year. Yau still cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

Opera Group To Perform At College

The University of California Opera Workshop will present a program entitled "Opera Highlights" as the second offering in the College of Marin Concert and Lecture Series at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Olney Hall.

Admission will be free.

The performance, which will feature seven singers and two pianists, will include scenes from six operas, sung in English and other languages. They include "Don Giovanni," "Die Fledermaus" and "The Consul" in English, "La Boheme" and "Aida" in Italian and "Carmen" in French. As an additional feature, the group will do the complete one-act comedy, "The Telephone," in English.

Because of the difficulty of handling and transporting equipment for such a brief appearance, costumes and props will be held to a minimum.

Director of the workshop is Peggy Donovan, member of the department of music at University of California, who has been working with the group since its formation last year.

Performers will include Gretta Hardin, soprano; Shatleigh Howell, baritone; Margaret Paradez, mezzo soprano; Emma Moss, soprano; Ruth Morrison, soprano; Patrick Daugherty, tenor; and Georgia Warden, soprano. Howell is a member of the San Francisco Opera Company's opera bank. Miss Warden was one of the finalists in the recent Metropolitan Opera Company auditions.

BULLETIN:

Shell Research scientists reveal how they got 168.47 miles per gallon

One hundred and sixty-eight miles per gallon must be a world's record. Like most records, it could never have been achieved without the most painstaking effort.

The two Shell scientists who hold this record have given us a report on how they managed it. They have also added some tips on how you can increase your car's mileage. Not by using their own extreme modifications and outlandish techniques. But by a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell gasoline.

Shell Research scientists, Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, in the rebuilt 1924 coupé which set the world mileage record. Its original frontal area was reduced by about 75 per cent to cut down wind resistance. Shellzone® anti-freeze was used as a coolant. And free-fitting aluminum alloy pistons were installed, each of which had only two piston rings to reduce friction. Special shock absorbers were the sole concession to comfort.

Some years ago, an argument as to who could get the most miles out of a gallon of gasoline boiled up into a challenge. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born.

Shell scientists have competed in this Mileage Marathon for several years. Not as a publicity stunt. But purely as a private contest of ingenuity. They use their own cars. Their own time. Their own money.

Many of the things contestants did to push mileage up to this world record are positively not recommended for informal marathons on the public highway. But they do throw some light on what makes a little gasoline go a long way. Here are some details.

Record-breaking car cost $35

The only rigid requirements that had to be met to qualify for the Mileage Marathon could be written on a book of matches.

The car had to have four rubber-tired wheels. It had to weigh no less than 2000 pounds. It had to have at least 100 cu. in. piston displacement. And it had to use the same gasoline that anybody could buy at a Shell service station, with no doctoring allowed.

Such crazy pressures would, of course, be quite unsafe under normal road conditions—and hideously uncomfortable, too.

But, under Shell's carefully controlled Marathon safety rules, the only ill effects were a few rattled vertebrae, some broken springs and an embarrassing bruise or two.

Pressure problems for the champs

Their 1924 car's beat-up tires couldn't possibly take more than 50 pounds. And, even then, they felt more solid than pneumatic. But there was a helpful mileage dividend in the old, wood-spoked wheels.

They took tires that were nearly a yard in diameter. This moved the car forward an extraordinary 9½ feet at every revolution.

What's more, these ancient tires were worn so smooth that road friction was cut to a minimum. Other competitors achieved a similar result by buffing off their treads, till only the slimmest strip touched the road.

SAFETY NOTE FROM THE CHAMPS: Don't try buffing the tread off your own tires. You risk more than a puncture. It might mean a blowout and a crash.

Muffled radiator and no fan

Many competitors went as far as to remove their engine's water pump and generator to save engine load. But Berry and Schuette grandly ignored this refinement.

However, they did remove their cooling fan to save energy. And they did muffle their radiator completely to save heat.

As anybody knows, all cars go better when properly warmed up. And, because our mileage champs used an "engine-off, engine-on" driving technique in the contest, they even designed a special exhaust-heated air duct that warmed the mixture as it was sucked into the carburetor.

Incidentally, did you know that fast warm-up is specially provided for in today's Super Shell? Its formula contains a gasoline ingredient called "Pentane Mix." This acts in your engine much as kindling acts in a log fire.

One push and wheels spin for 30 minutes

On the winning car—the transmission and wheel bearings were lubricated with light engine oil instead of with heavy oil and grease, to reduce drag. It worked.

A Marathon car is a Marathon car. And nobody minds if it breaks down after it wins. But your family car is a different matter.

Trust your Shell serviceman's advice on all lubrication problems. He's an expert—and he's got the finest tools, charts, lubricants and gasoline to give your car the maximum mileage it was designed to deliver.

The winning car was accelerated to 20 miles per hour, at which point the driver cut his engine and coasted in neutral.

Only when the "speed" dropped below 5 miles per hour was the engine restarted and the cycle repeated. All acceleration was done in high gear and at nearly full throttle. There was little choice. All other gears were removed prior to the contest.

Serious—or scientific fun?

You already know the result of all this eccentric tinkering and mad-hatter driving.

But, since "on-and-off" driving is illegal on the public road—and since most Marathon modifications are positively dangerous for normal use—you may be wondering if Shell's Mileage Marathon has any point.

Is it a serious test? Or is it a piece of semi-scientific fun that is just an excuse for a picnic? The answer is—a bit of both.

The somewhat bizarre parade of vehicles—coughing and jerking and puffing around the track has a Mack Sennett quality about it. You expect the Keystone Cops to arrive at any minute.

But remember that the Marathon itself is only a climax to months, and sometimes years, of serious and ingenious work. Not everybody sets a world record. But every contestant learns a little more about the care and feeding of automobiles. Which, after all, is Shell's main job.

Eventually, every bit of this knowledge—whether it comes from the Marathon, the workshop, or the lab—is passed on to you in the form of better and better products.

Among Platformate's extraordinary super-energy components are benzene, toluene and xylene. These three components alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline.

The lesson is obvious. The first thing you do to get extra mileage from your own car is to put extra energy into your fuel tank, by using today's Super Shell. Then, if you want to boost mileage even more, take these tips from Shell's experts.

Seven tips that save gasoline

1. Don't race your engine when stationary. Every revolution is pure waste unless it is taking you somewhere.

2. Avoid jack rabbit starts. In the long run, they waste gallons of gasoline by holding automatic transmissions in low gear too long.

3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 40 per cent more gasoline at 60 mph than at 35 mph.

4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses fuel without using the power it generates.

5. Pace yourself to traffic. Don't be the fastest or the slowest. It traps you into wasteful spurts and slowdowns.

6. Keep tires up to their proper pressures. Soft tires soak up power the way a blotter soaks up ink.

7. Get your Shell man to make these checks. Your carburetor should be adjusted periodically. Spark timing should be correct. Fuel filters and air cleaner should be clean. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your thermostat must be in working order.

Many car-owners report up to 30 extra miles per tankful. We can't guarantee this saving. But, unless you're a millionaire, it's worth thinking about.

BULLETIN:

Shell Research scientists reveal how they got

168.47 miles per gallon

One hundred and sixty-eight miles per gallon must be a world's record. Like most records, it could never have been achieved without the most painstaking effort.

The two Shell scientists who hold this record have given us a report on how they managed it. They have also added some tips on how you can increase your car's mileage. Not by using their own extreme modifications and outlandish techniques. But by a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell gasoline.

Shell Research scientists, Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, in the rebuilt 1924 coupé which set the world mileage record. Its original frontal area was reduced by about 75 per cent to cut down wind resistance. Shellzone® anti-freeze was used as a coolant. And free-fitting aluminum alloy pistons were installed, each of which had only two piston rings to reduce friction. Special shock absorbers were the sole concession to comfort.

Some years ago, an argument as to who could get the most miles out of a gallon of gasoline boiled up into a challenge. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born.

Shell scientists have competed in this Mileage Marathon for several years. Not as a publicity stunt. But purely as a private contest of ingenuity. They use their own cars. Their own time. Their own money.

Not for everyday use

The best mileage recorded so far is a resounding 168 miles per gallon.

Many of the things contestants did to push mileage up to this world record are positively not recommended for informal marathons on the public highway. But they do throw some light on what makes a little gasoline go a long way. Here are some details.

Record-breaking car cost $35

Shell's record-breaking car was a highly modified 1924 2-passenger coupé (see cut). It was rescued from a junkyard for $35.

The only rigid requirements that had to be met to qualify for the Mileage Marathon could be written on a book of matches.

The car had to have four rubber-tired wheels. It had to weigh no less than 2000 pounds. It had to have at least 100 cu. in. piston displacement. And it had to use the same gasoline that anybody could buy at a Shell service station, with no doctoring allowed.

After that, no holds were barred. The car that won used a standard carburetor from an old one-cylinder engine.

Tire pressures up to 110 pounds

Such crazy pressures would, of course, be quite unsafe under normal road conditions—and hideously uncomfortable, too.

But, under Shell's carefully controlled Marathon safety rules, the only ill effects were a few rattled vertebrae, some broken springs and an embarrassing bruise or two.

Pressure problems for the champs

Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, who eventually set the existing record, had to be satisfied with something less spectacular in the tire pressure department.

Their 1924 car's beat-up tires couldn't possibly take more than 50 pounds. And, even then, they felt more solid than pneumatic. But there was a helpful mileage dividend in the old, wood-spoked wheels.

They took tires that were nearly a yard in diameter. This moved the car forward an extraordinary 9½ feet at every revolution.

What's more, these ancient tires were worn so smooth that road friction was cut to a minimum. Other competitors achieved a similar result by buffing off their treads, till only the slimmest strip touched the road.

SAFETY NOTE FROM THE CHAMPS: Don't try buffing the tread off your own tires. You risk more than a puncture. It might mean a blowout and a crash.

Muffled radiator and no fan

Many competitors went as far as to remove their engine's water pump and generator to save engine load. But Berry and Schuette grandly ignored this refinement.

However, they did remove their cooling fan to save energy. And they did muffle their radiator completely to save heat.

As anybody knows, all cars go better when properly warmed up. And, because our mileage champs used an "engine-off, engine-on" driving technique in the contest, they even designed a special exhaust-heated air duct that warmed the mixture as it was sucked into the carburetor.

Incidentally, did you know that fast warm-up is specially provided for in today's Super Shell? Its formula contains a gasoline ingredient called "Pentane Mix." This acts in your engine much as kindling acts in a log fire.

One push and wheels spin for 30 minutes

On the winning car—the transmission and wheel bearings were lubricated with light engine oil instead of with heavy oil and grease, to reduce drag. It worked.

Of course, no Shell serviceman would ever approve of such liberties being taken with your own car's lubrication. And he would be right.

A Marathon car is a Marathon car. And nobody minds if it breaks down after it wins. But your family car is a different matter.

Trust your Shell serviceman's advice on all lubrication problems. He's an expert—and he's got the finest tools, charts, lubricants and gasoline to give your car the maximum mileage it was designed to deliver.

The champs' "on-and-off" driving
